FOREWORD

American liberty has been defined as not the "right to liberty" alone, but "the EQUAL right to liberty." This definition ought to be impressed on the hearts and minds of all who cherish liberty. If American liberty is properly understood, it can never be twisted into a tool for committing tyrannies in this country, which George Washington christened "the land of equal liberty" . . . Liberty is no exception to the rule that every right has its counterpart in a duty. That duty which accompanies liberty is simply to accord to others an equal right to liberty. Thomas Paine has well said that "the Grecians and Romans were strongly possessed with the spirit of liberty, but not the principle, for at the time that they were determined not to be slaves themselves, they employed their power to enslave the rest of mankind" . . . What then is the spirit of liberty? The spirit of liberty is the spirit which seeks to understand the minds of other men and women; the spirit of liberty is the spirit which weighs their interests alongside its own without bias; the spirit of liberty remembers that not even a sparrow falls to earth unheeded; the spirit of liberty is the spirit of Him, who, nearly two thousand years ago, taught mankind that lesson it has never learned, but never quite forgotten: that there is a kingdom where the least shall be heard and considered side by side with the greatest . . . THIS LOVE OF LIBERTY IS PART OF OUR AMERICAN HERITAGE.

THE HONORABLE JOHN F. KENNEDY,
President of the United States

"Ask Not What America Will Do for You,

But What Together We Can Do for the Freedom of Man."

"In your hands, my fellow citizens, more than mine, will rest the final success or failure of our course. Since this country was founded, each generation of Americans has been summoned to give testimony to its national loyalty. The graves of young Americans who answered the call to service surround the globe.

"Now the trumpet summons us again—not as a call to bear arms, though arms we need—not as a call to battle, though embattled we are—but a call to bear the burden of a long twilight struggle, year in and year out, 'rejoicing in hope, patient in tribulation'—a struggle against the common enemies of man: tyranny, poverty, disease and war itself.

"Can we forge against these enemies a grand and global alliance, North and South, East and West, that can assure a more fruitful life for all mankind? Will you join in that historic effort?

"In the long history of the world, only a few generations have been granted the role of defending freedom in its hour of maximum danger. I do not shrink from this responsibility—I welcome it. I do not believe that any of us would exchange places with any other people or any other generation. The energy, the faith, the devotion which we bring to this endeavor will light our country and all who serve it—and the glow from that fire can truly light the world.

"And so, my fellow Americans: ask not what your country can do for you—ask what you can do for your country.

"My fellow citizens of the world: ask not what America will do for you—but what together we can do for the freedom of man.

"Finally, whether you are citizens of America or citizens of the world, ask of us here the same high standards of strength and sacrifice which we ask of you. With a good conscience our only sure reward, with history the final judge of our deeds, let us go forth to lead the land we love, asking His blessing and His help, but knowing that here on earth God's work must truly be our own." *

JOHN A VOLPE
GOVERNOR

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT
STATE HOUSE, BOSTON

TO THE FOURTEEN HUNDRED AND FOUR STUDENTS
OF THE BOSTON COLLEGE HIGH SCHOOL

It is an honor and a pleasure for me, as Governor of Massachusetts, to extend the greetings of the Commonwealth to the students of Boston College High School through this message in your yearbook, "The Renaissance".

The title is appropriate and inspiring, because young people like you, now in your high school years, and contemplating as many of you are, advanced study in college, have the opportunity and the power to bring about a renaissance in the moral and spiritual life of our country. It will be your great responsibility to help in the rebirth of conscience which is a vital need of our nation today.

Young men who have had sound religious and moral training, who know the importance of the spiritual life and the strength and help which it gives to daily existence, bring to adulthood the qualities of integrity, charity and leadership which are so urgently needed in this modern world.

These qualities are part of our great American Heritage, the shining legacy of civil rights and economic and social progress, love of freedom and liberty, which has been bequeathed to us all, no matter what our ancestral backgrounds.

Here in Boston we breathe the very air of American history: we live among historic shrines such as Faneuil Hall and the Old State House; Bunker Hill and the Common. They are your inspiration to preserve and strengthen the great American ideals of freedom and justice.

My prayers and good wishes for the future go to all of you.

John A. Volpe, Governor

dedication

Twenty-five years ago, a young priest, Father John W. Kelley, S.J., began teaching Religion, Latin and English to Freshmen at Boston College High. Hundreds of pupils graduated and forged successful careers for themselves as either priests, doctors, lawyers teachers or businessmen . . . In 1960, Alpha and Omega, the Boston College School of Education Honor Society made Father Kelley an honorary member. In the citation at their Annual Dinner, the members of the organization stressed the fact they honored him because of his tireless service as a top-flight high school teacher who came not from the ranks of the administration but directly from the classroom . . . Therefore, we, the 1404 students of Boston College High feel that it is a privilege and an honor to dedicate our 1962 RENAISSANCE to a zealous priest, an inspiring teacher, a wise and experienced counselor and a warm-hearted friend: REV. JOHN W. KELLEY, S.J.

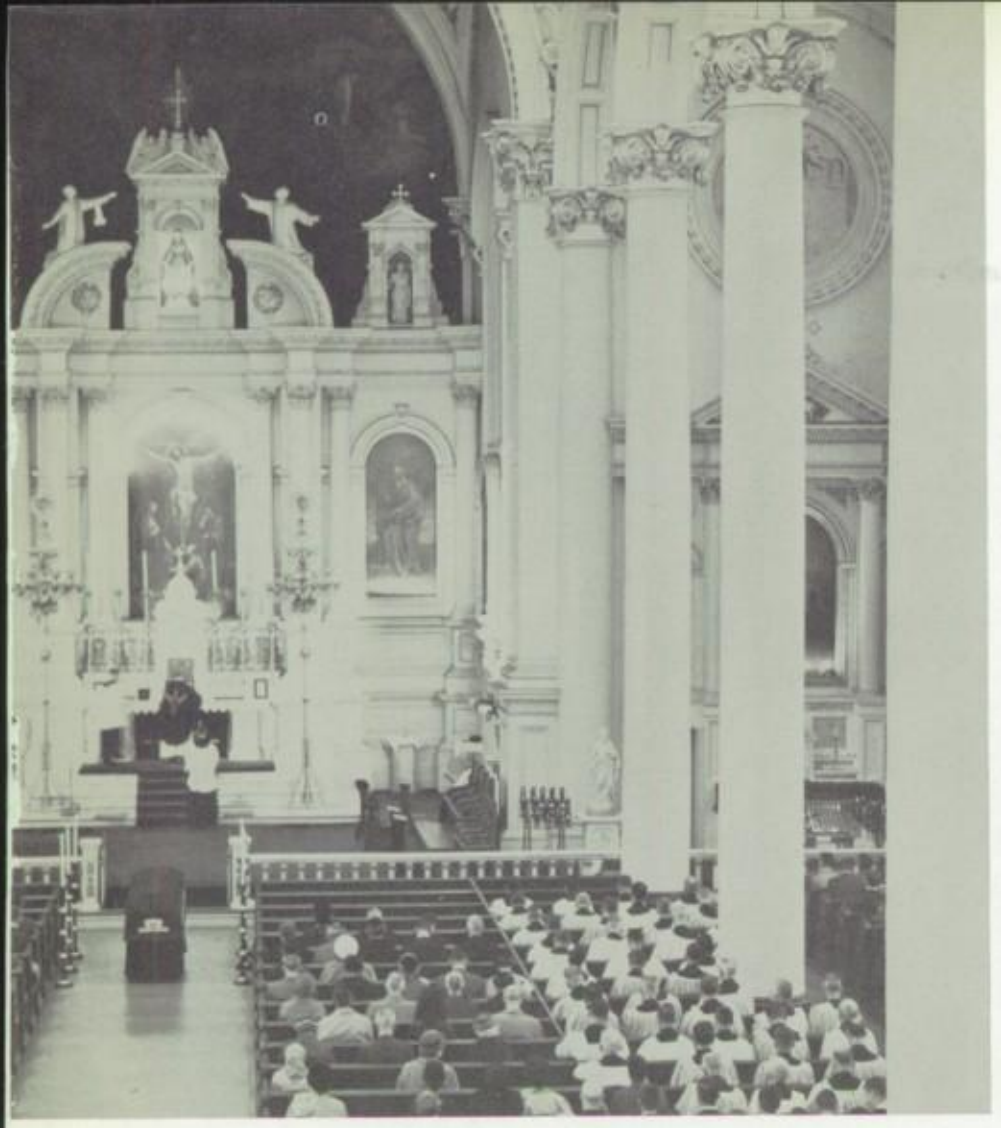
IN MEMORIAM

REV. D. AUGUSTINE KEANE, S.J.

Fr. D. Augustine Keane, S.J. died suddenly on Sunday morning, Oct. 15th, 1961, at Loyola Hall on Morrissey Boulevard at the age of 62 . . . These simple facts of his death closed the final chapter in Father Keane's brilliant career which began in the year 1918 when he entered the Society of Jesus in Poughkeepsie, N. Y. Ordained in 1931, he taught for three years a member of the Jesuit faculty at Weston College where he published a book on Epistemology which was adopted by the Jesuits as a standard text. Then he received the degree of Doctor of Philosophy from the Gregorian University in Rome . . . Appointed Principal of Boston College High School in 1936 at the age of 37, Fr. Keane spent 15 years guiding and directing Boston College High so that, during his tenure, the enrollment was more than doubled. Fr. Keane will always be remembered as a smiling, kindly man by countless thousands of students. He was noted for his brilliance, patience, deep spirituality and intense interest in Catholic youth . . . Appointed Rector of Cranwell Preparatory School in Lenox in 1951, he returned, after seven years, to his beloved B.C. High to act as Guidance Counselor and Freshman teacher of Religion, Latin and English . . . Beloved priest, zealous leader, inspiring teacher and true friend, Father Keane lives on gloriously in the minds and hearts of thousands of students as well as his own fellow Jesuits! . . . May Almighty God grant him eternal rest and may His perpetual light shine upon him. May his magnanimous soul which radiated Christ rest in peace. Amen.

Rev. Francis J. Gilday, S.J., Rector of Boston College High, celebrates a Requiem Mass for Fr. Keane, S.J. on Oct. 18, 1961 at the Immaculate Conception Church in Boston.



Jesuits and relatives take part in solemn recessional after the Requiem Mass.

Frs. Kelley and Leo, S.J. recite the Office of the Dead preceding the Mass, as the Very Rev. James E. Coleran, S.J., Provincial (center) attended by Frs. Kelly, Lannon and O'Connor, S.J. respond in Latin.

John Adams, second President of the United States and one of the Founding Fathers of our nation, wrote, after the Declaration of Independence was approved, that "the Fourth of July ought to be commemorated as the Day of Deliverance by solemn Acts of Devotion to God Almighty." . . . Early American history was hallowed with a purpose greater than material wealth and a cause greater than democracy. It was forged in the fire of a burning faith in God. Many early settlers came to America with one goal in mind—namely, to advance the kingdom of God . . . The Preamble of our national Constitution speaks of "the blessings of liberty." The men at Philadelphia could never have written that document if they had not faith in God . . . We are living in the most critical period in American history. We are faced with possible destruction of our entire civilization. With a militant, atheistic Communism threatening to bury us, we need to rediscover our national goals and examine again our national destiny . . . Jesuit educators at Boston College High strive to train each student to know, accept and fulfill his obligations to God, to his neighbor, to himself and to recognize his personal responsibility for his actions. The spirit of religion pervades the entire system of Jesuit education and it is part of the very atmosphere the student breathes . . . Our Constitution guarantees our right to freely practice our religion. THIS IS PART OF OUR AMERICAN HERITAGE.

Faneuil Hall, the Cradle of American liberty, gave birth to great events, both military and civil, which were connected with the American Revolution. It was here that Samuel Adams established in 1772 the Boston Committee of Correspondence for the purpose of stating the rights of the colonists to England. He came to be known as the "Father of the Revolution" by his patriotic advocacy of the liberties of the people in the American colonies. He condemned British rule, he became a prominent member of the Continental Congress from 1774 to 1781 as well as a signer of the Declaration of Independence and exerted extensive influence in the councils of his fellow-countrymen . . . Daniel Webster, the foremost orator of his time, speaking in Faneuil Hall on May 22, 1852, said that "the patriotic and ingenuous youth of this and succeeding generations, who wish to know the true origin of the independence of our country and its early achievements in the cause of liberty, will keep their attention turned to this spot whence issued the light which in 1775 illuminated a continent." . . . Here, since 1836, in a predominantly classical curriculum vitalized by religion, the body, mind, heart and will of B.C. High students have been trained and harmoniously developed. Jesuit educators believe that our American civilization with its innate love of freedom and liberty drew, from Hellenic sources, principles that move and work within it today. It was in the fifth century B.C. that the Greeks resisted the attempts of a Persian despotism to conquer them and so saved for Europe and America the idea of constitutional government. The history of the conflict and the fame of Marathon, Thermopylae and Salamis have been an inspiration to the defenders of free institutions throughout the ages. Athens and Rome bequeathed to America ideas in every department of action and thought which have been living forces throughout the ages and are living forces today.

HONOR SOCIETIES

Boston College High School has been renowned for its molding of the well-balanced and well-rounded man for almost a century. In the field of scholastic endeavor, it gives special recognition to students who have distinguished themselves during the academic year by receiving them into the Honor Society. A total of ten points must be gained for entrance into the Society. Every student has an opportunity to acquire either a First or Second Honor award at the end of each marking period. Two points are given for a First Honor card and one for both a Second Honor Card and for an extracurricular activity to qualify for the Society. At the end of the year, beautiful gold pins are awarded to those who have qualified for the Society. There are two divisions in the Society: the Junior Honor Society for the first three years and the Senior Honor Society for the Seniors.

Summer bliss and relaxation became things of the past as we faced stark reality and journeyed back to the campus on the morning of Sept. 7th. Rev. Father Gilday, S.J., our Rector, celebrated the Mass of the Holy Spirit in the Quadrangle by imploring God's blessing upon all our academic pursuits. Under the guidance of Fr. Nelligan, S.J., 4-A retraced the tragic journey of the ill-fated Trojans and learned to appreciate the highlights of English Literature. Fr. Sullivan, S.J. and Fr. Doyle, S.J. taught us the values of sines and cosines and branched into the realm of modern Math and calculus, while Mr. Claffey directed the class in Physics. Fr. Hanlon, S.J. instructed us in German, a language eminently suitable for future scientists . . . Our four trail blazers were President McCarthy, Veep Mitchell, Banker Byrnes, and Scribe Ranaghan . . . Prominent in the Sodality cell movement were Messrs. Contrado, Fox, Galeota, McCarthy, Pasciucco and Ross . . . Distinguished for their scholastic achievements were Messrs. Bond, Byrnes, Donovan, Fewore, Fox, Harrington, Loughran, Mahoney, Mugnai, Mitchell, Nicholson, Nixon, Pasciucco, Ross, Shanahan and Watson . . . Our Merit Finalists were W. Donovan, T. Mitchell and D. Ranaghan . . . Active participants in the Debating Society were Messrs. R. Contrado, M. Loughran, G. Mahoney and J. Pasciucco . . . With imaginative minds and witty pens, our BOTOLPHIAN men — Messrs. Mahoney, Mugnai, Pasciucco and our RENAISSANCE men—Messrs. Galeota, McCarthy, Nixon and Pasciucco, distinguished themselves in the literary field . . . The majority of the class belonged to both the Science and Math Clubs captained respectively by J. Fox and R. Contrado . . . Athletically, 4-A was represented by Mitchell in basketball; McCarthy in baseball, and Contrado, Galeota, and McCarthy in track . . . We shall be ever mindful of our class motto: "Durate et vosmet rebus servate secundis."—Take courage and prepare yourself for future success.

Blue skies, the beautiful golden and red hues of changing leaves, and the crisp air make November one of the best-loved months of the year. New subjects and new teachers held bright promises for 4-B. But it was not all study; for football games, Record Hops and the Autumn Soirée guaranteed us many good times . . . Gallantly pursuing our quest for knowledge, we have been inspired to study our Latin, English and Religion under the guidance of Fr. Donohue, S.J. . . . Instructed in the modern languages by Fr. Pollard, S.J. and Mr. Paradis, S.J., and in the sciences by Fr. Spillane, S.J., Mr. Hanrahan, S.J. and Mr. Howard, S.J., we gained a well-rounded education . . . P. Kenny and D. Whelan lead us in academic honors. Close behind were Messrs. Babin, Dahlstrom, Duseau, Finneran, Hartwell, Kelly, Killelea and Whelan . . . We elected Frank Dahlstrom as the President of 4-B. Later he was chosen as the 1962 Senior Class President. 4-B also selected J. Duseau as Veep, R. Dolan as Scribe and J. Kelley as Treasurer . . . Athletically, we were well represented in hockey by R. O'Donnell and G. O'Brien; in football by F. Dahlstrom; and in track by C. Babin . . . RENAISSANCE personnel included R. Dolan, Managing Editor, D. LeBlanc, B. Minihan and D. Whelan . . . Our Science Club members were F. DeVito, J. Duseau, P. Hartwell and G. Stagno . . . Loyal Sodalists were W. Breen, F. DeVito, R. Dolan, D. Heslin, and P. Kenney . . . Ralph Dolan was elected President of the History Academy . . . Prominent in the Bapst Debating Society were W. Breen, R. Dolan and P. Kenney; and in the Campion English Academy J. Duseau, E. Finneran, C. Fitzpatrick, K. Flynn, P. Hartwell and G. Stagno . . . Messrs. Artesani, Finneran, Raymond and Whelan maintained their interest in the Current Events Academy throughout the year . . . Messrs. Breen, E. Finneran and T. Finneran gained a basic knowledge of extraordinary Math topics in the Senior Math Academy . . . Before we knew it, the day was shorter, the leaves were gone and Fall was no more.

December had a deep significance for us. Marks closed for the Second Marking Period while many of us took our College Board Exams here on Dec. 2nd. Preoccupied with the thoughts of the Christmas season and the Birth of Christ, 4-C experienced an exhilarating Yuletide vacation . . . Mr. Clark, S.J. impressed upon our minds the heroic stature of Aeneas and deepened our knowledge of those two literary giants, Chaucer and Shakespeare. We learned also to value the blessings of liberty by contrasting them with the specious arguments of Communism . . . Instructed in French by Fr. Sheridan, S.J. and in the Sciences by Mr. Claffey, Mr. Hanrahan, S.J. and Mr. Howard, S.J., our academic education reached its peak of perfection . . . When the final ballots were counted, Bob Malloy emerged as President, with Brian McMenimen as Veep, Tom Gilarde as Banker and Charlie Fiantaca as Scribe . . . Scholastically, our Honor men were E. Ansello, J. Arns, G. Buscher, J. Cleary, J. Fatersik, J. Fortunato, T. Gilarde, T. Grady, P. McMahon, R. Malloy and F. Nolan . . . The RENAISSANCE included Messrs. Ansello, Byrne, Fortunato, Gilarde, Sweeney and McMenimen who was also the Sports Editor of the BOTOLPHIAN . . . John Fatersik was our skilled Bapst debater . . . Messrs. Byrne and Pinkos were our competent representatives in the Current Events Academy . . . Our Radio Club men were R. Coll and F. Nolan, while T. Grady and C. Sweeney were loyal members of the Science Club . . . Representing us on the Champion Hockey Squad were our capable Captain R. Malloy and T. Gilarde, Manager, while our Track contingent included E. Ansello and T. Grady, Manager. Our class motto was: truly Shakespearean: "I dare do all that may become a man; who dares do more, is none."

Back: Fr. Glavin, S.J., Houton, Morris, Mungovan, McGuire, Walsh, Sheehan, Doyle, O'Neill. Third: Delaney, Crosta, DiSciullo, Dirrane, Locke, Milward, Storlazzi, McDonough, Boyd. Second: Zagami, Swain, Crowley, Napoli, Shea, Stebbins, Musto, Gavin, Meehan. Front: Lynch, Carolan, Harrington, Fahey, Ford, Coll, Ferguson, Bransfield, Ballantine.

Weathering successfully the turbulent period of Mid-Year Exams, we commenced our eighth and final semester at B.C. High on Jan. 23rd. The numbing bite of January's frigid gales and snow storms beset us as we daily journeyed from home to Morrissey Boulevard. We embarked on our last voyage with mixed emotions. Proud of our achievements, we were nevertheless saddened by the fact that we must soon leave behind our friends, teachers and, above all, the school which has become so integral a part of our lives . . . Fr. Glavin, S.J., centered our attention upon the journeys of Aeneas, the tragic downfall of Macbeth and the nature and goals of Soviet Communism. Fr. Spillane, S.J., instructed us in the complexities of Trigonometry while Fr. Hanlon, S.J., Fr. Pollard, S.J., and Fr. St. Onge, S.J., were our fluent language instructors . . . Chemistry students learned about the electron structure of atoms and molecules under the direction of Mr. Hanrahan, S.J., while Mr. Claffey explained the velocity of vectors and the refraction of light. Physical Science men gained valuable knowledge under the guiding hand of Mr. Howard, S.J. . . . Our four politicians were President Brian O'Neill, Veep Dan Harrington, Secretary Bob Morris, and Purser Frank McGuire . . . Our stellar academic leader was John Ballantine . . . Our three-letter man, F. McGuire starred in baseball and basketball. In baseball we were also reepresented by D. Harrington; in tennis, by R. Walsh and in track, by A. Storlazzi . . . On the RENAISSANCE were Business Editor, R. DiSciullo and Re-Write men: Messrs. Harrington, Locke, McDonough, Meehan, O'Neill and Sheehan . . . John Coll sketched artistic drawings for the BOTOLPHIAN . . . Our amateur lensman was A. Ford . . . Included in the roster of the Radio Club were G. Doyle and J. Lynch, while J. Coll represented us both in the Campion English Academy as well as the Current Events Academy . . . Messrs. Crowley and Harrington perfected their knowledge of the Teutonic language in the German Academy . . . Our class motto was: "Revocate animos maestumque timorem mittite."—Recall your courage and dismiss baneful fears.

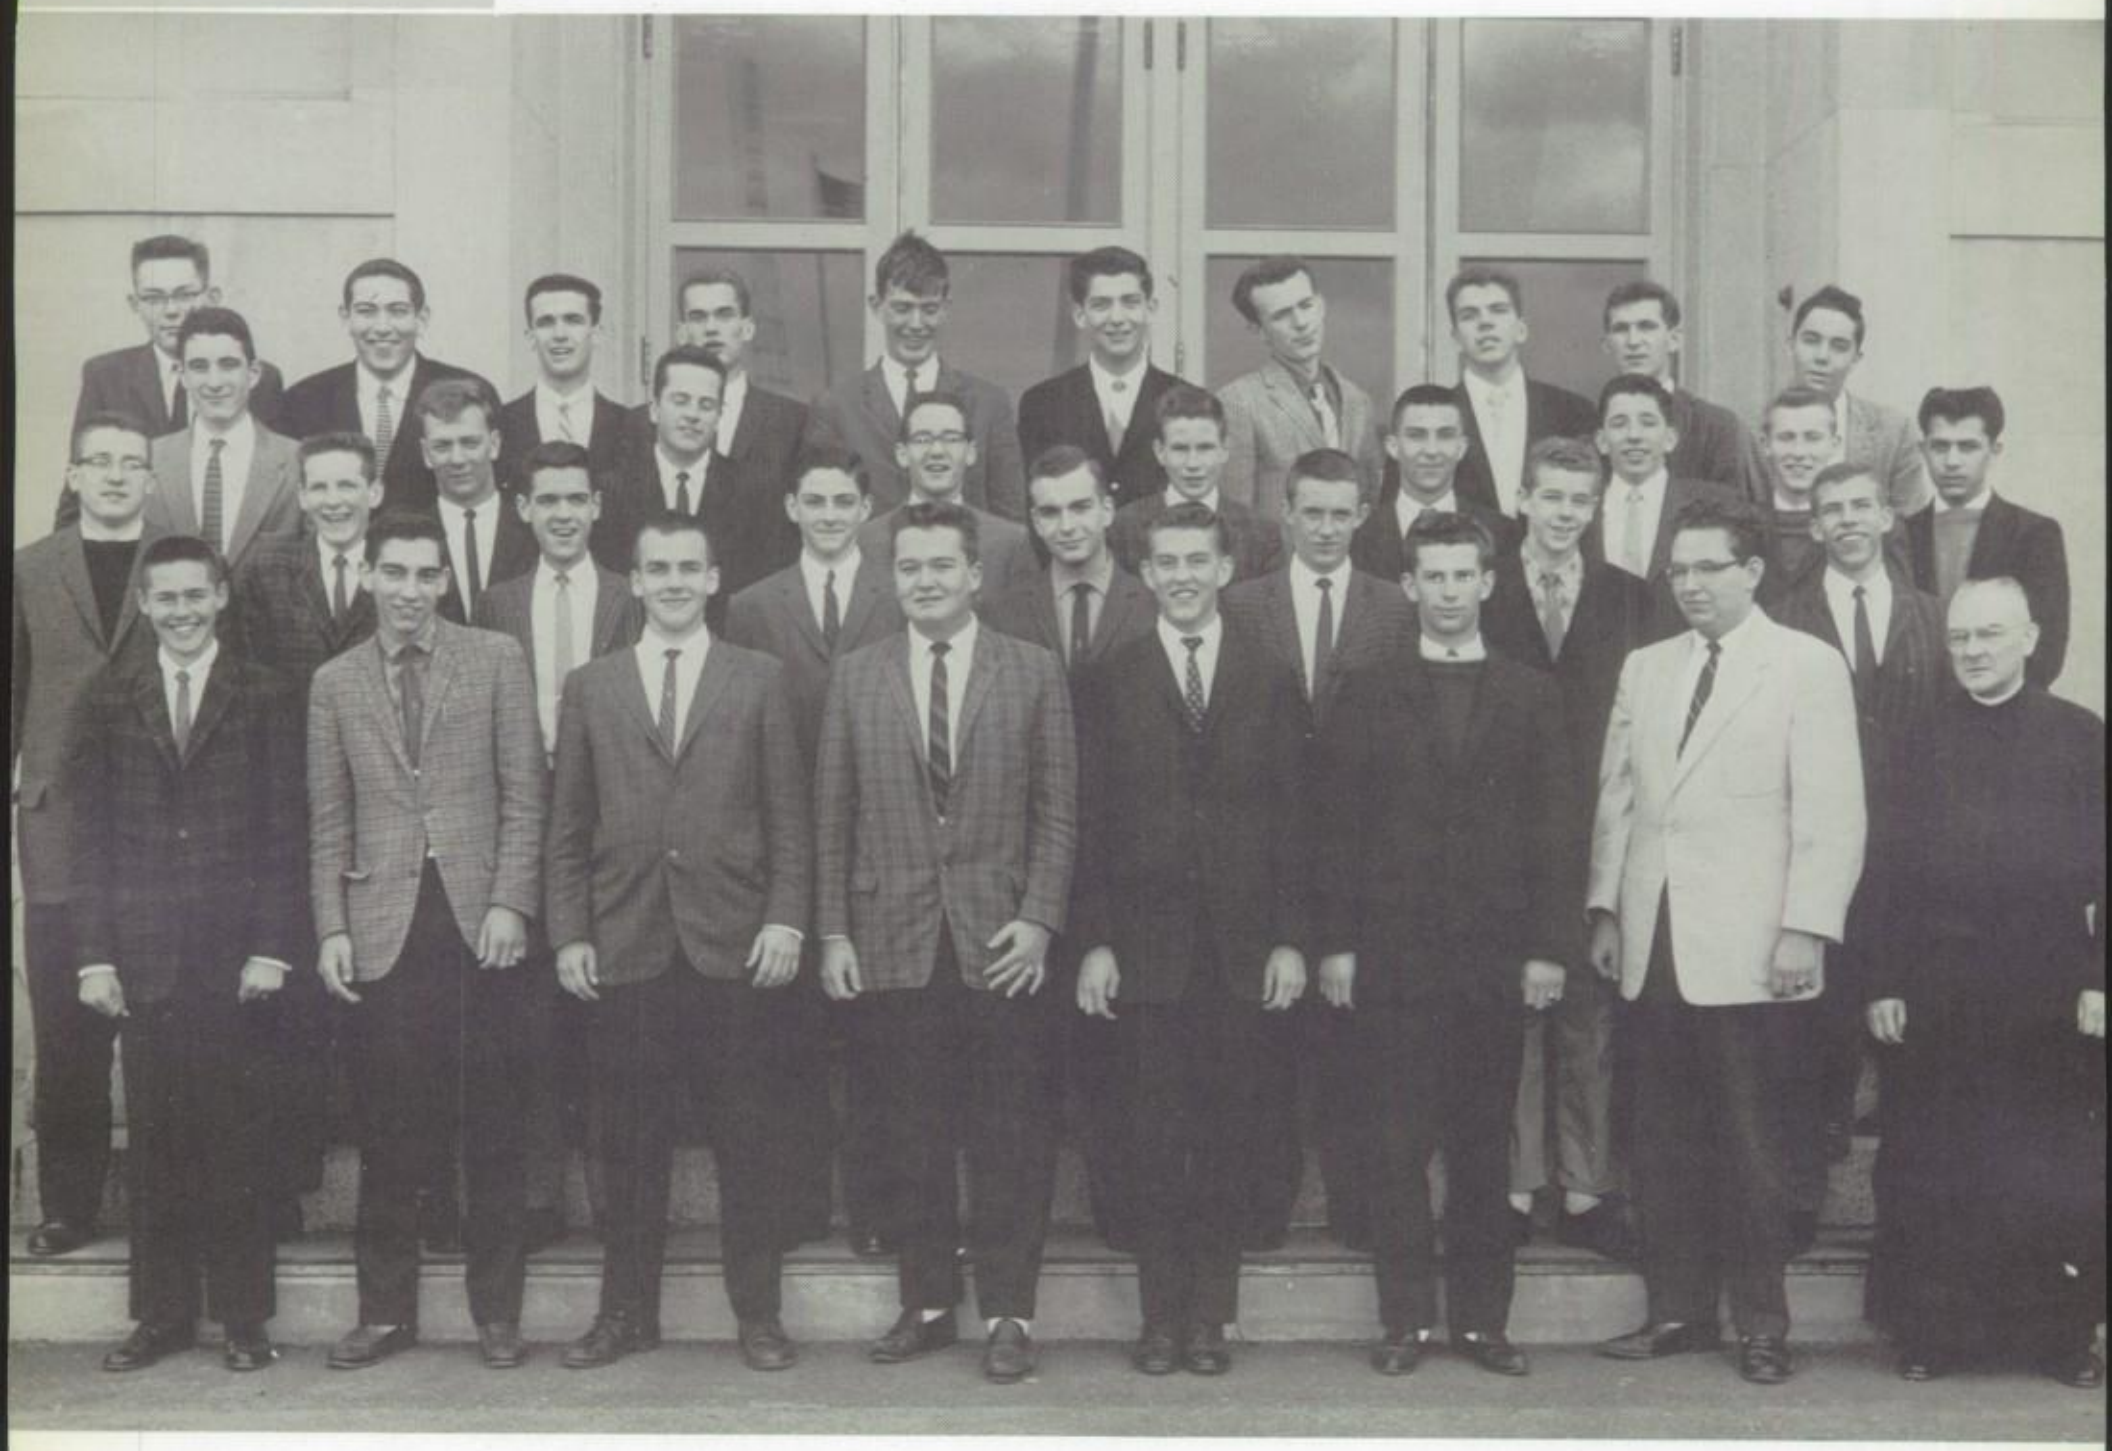
4-E Concentrated on Vergil, the Spokesman



Back: Concannon, Lukaszewicz, Allendorf, O'Callaghan, O'Hara, Benedetto, Gibson, Hines, Connolly, Geaney. Third: Nash, Bouchea, Muldoon, McGovern, Reynolds, Connelly, Kilroy, Burns, Vecchiarello. Second: Regan, G. Sullivan, Savage, McCabe, Ferrazzi, Norton, Layden, Young. Front: Cahill, McCarthy, Mulcahy, Haney, Rose, Recommendes, Kamins, Fr. Foley, S.J.

March winds brought invigoration and strength to the keen minds of 4-E for their final scholastic drive . . . Under the tutelage of Fr. Foley, S.J., our homeroom teacher, we centered our attention on Vergil, the eloquent spokesman of imperial Rome. In the Aeneid, through the eyes of Aeneas, we saw the gradual unfolding of the divine purpose, through vision, prophecy, omen and inspiration until in Book VI full realization came to the mind of Aeneas in a panoramic vision of the future glories of Rome. Mr. Howard, S.J., revealed to us the secrets of Physical Science while our modern language instructors, Fr. Hanlon, S.J., and Mr. Paradis, S.J., opened up for us new vistas of knowledge with a modern approach. Mr. Farricy showed us how to solve problems in Trigonometry, Analytical Geometry and Probability . . . Special tribute must be given to our scholastic leaders: G. Nash, C. Ferrazzi, S. McCabe, J. Savage and T. Young . . . After a vigorous campaign, 4-E voted Bob O'Callaghan as President, Joe Recommendes as Veep and John Burns as Secretary-Treasurer . . . Our athletes were: R. Hines in baseball; L. Gibson, in basketball and in track, R. Benedetto and P. Mulcahy . . . Those who injected the 4-E spirit into extra-curricular activities were: L. Gibson and W. Norton in the Radio Club; Messrs. Geaney, Kilroy, Luna, McCarthy, Savage and Young in the Sodality; P. Lukaszewicz, G. Nash and R. O'Callaghan on the RENAISSANCE; L. Kamins in the Campion Eng. Academy; Messrs. Burns, Kilroy, Luna, McCabe, Muldoon, Nash, Savage and Young, in the Current Events Academy; E. Luna, in the German Academy, and G. Nash and E. Luna, in the Classical Academy . . . We all tried to do our best throughout the academic year. Our class motto will always strike a clarion note in our lives in the future: "Sunt hic etiam sua praemia laudi . . . Solve metus."—For even here praise has its own reward . . . Set aside your fears.

Back: Chisholm, Zeletsky, Boudreau, Finnegan, Merrick, O'Leary, Gratto, Cipriani, White. Third: Fr. St. Onge, S.J., Dunn, Hurley, Gillis, Kuodis, Merigan, Mulford, McDonough, Gobron. Second: Casper, G. Shea, Anderson, Schroeder, Boyle, DeLuca, J. Connolly, Callahan, Todd. Front: Nicastro, Stoltze, Waggett, Crowe, B. Shea, Molvar, McGrane, Monahan, E. Connolly, Cottom.

Refreshing April, Nature's revitalizer, permeated our winter-wearied class with an air of intellectual rejuvenation and anticipation. Easter, with its eternal message of hope and joy, spiritually revived our souls. The veteran Seniors of 4-F took their last fling at the books as Fr. St. Onge, S.J., headed our list of instructors by enlightening us with a knowledge and appreciation of the world-renowned literature of Virgil and Cicero. Fr. Scannell, S.J., vividly portrayed the adventures of Odysseus and his companions while Frs. Buck, S.J., and Spillane, S.J., respectively, gave us a very illuminating course in Chemistry and Math. Fr. Hanlon, S.J., and Fr. Donohue, S.J., brightened our German and English classes with their pleasant manner and erudition . . . Heading the list of our four anchormen was President Joe Merrick, assisted by Mike Casper, Veep, Ralph Mulford, Scribe, and Bob Cipriani, Purser . . . Special attention must be given to our scholastic Honormen who were J. Cottom, S. Anderson, M. Casper, C. Gobron, K. Hurley, G. Kuodis, G. Todd, and P. White . . . Our trackmen were Co-Captain Bob Molvar, J. Merrick, F. McDonough, E. Merigan and J. Nicastro, while Co-Captain E. Gratto and G. Kuodis were our sharpshooters on our champion basketball team . . . R. Cipriani was the manager of the football squad, while G. Chisholm captained the golf team . . . RENAISSANCE men included Co-Editor J. Merrick, R. Cipriani, M. Casper, and W. Stoltze, while the BOTOLPHIAN claimed S. Anderson and A. DeLuca . . . Our cell leaders in the Sodality were E. Connolly, J. Cottom, C. Gobron, R. Molvar, G. Shea and W. Stoltze . . . On the roster of the Science Club were E. Connolly, J. Connolly, D. Dunn and E. Gratto, while S. Anderson, P. Crowe and C. Gobron were numbered among the Current Events Academy members . . . J. Gillis and E. Merigan attended the German Academy, while A. DeLuca and R. Mulford were our Bapst debaters . . . We adopted as our class motto: "Forsan et haec olim meminisse juvabit."—Perhaps someday it will be a joy to remember these times.

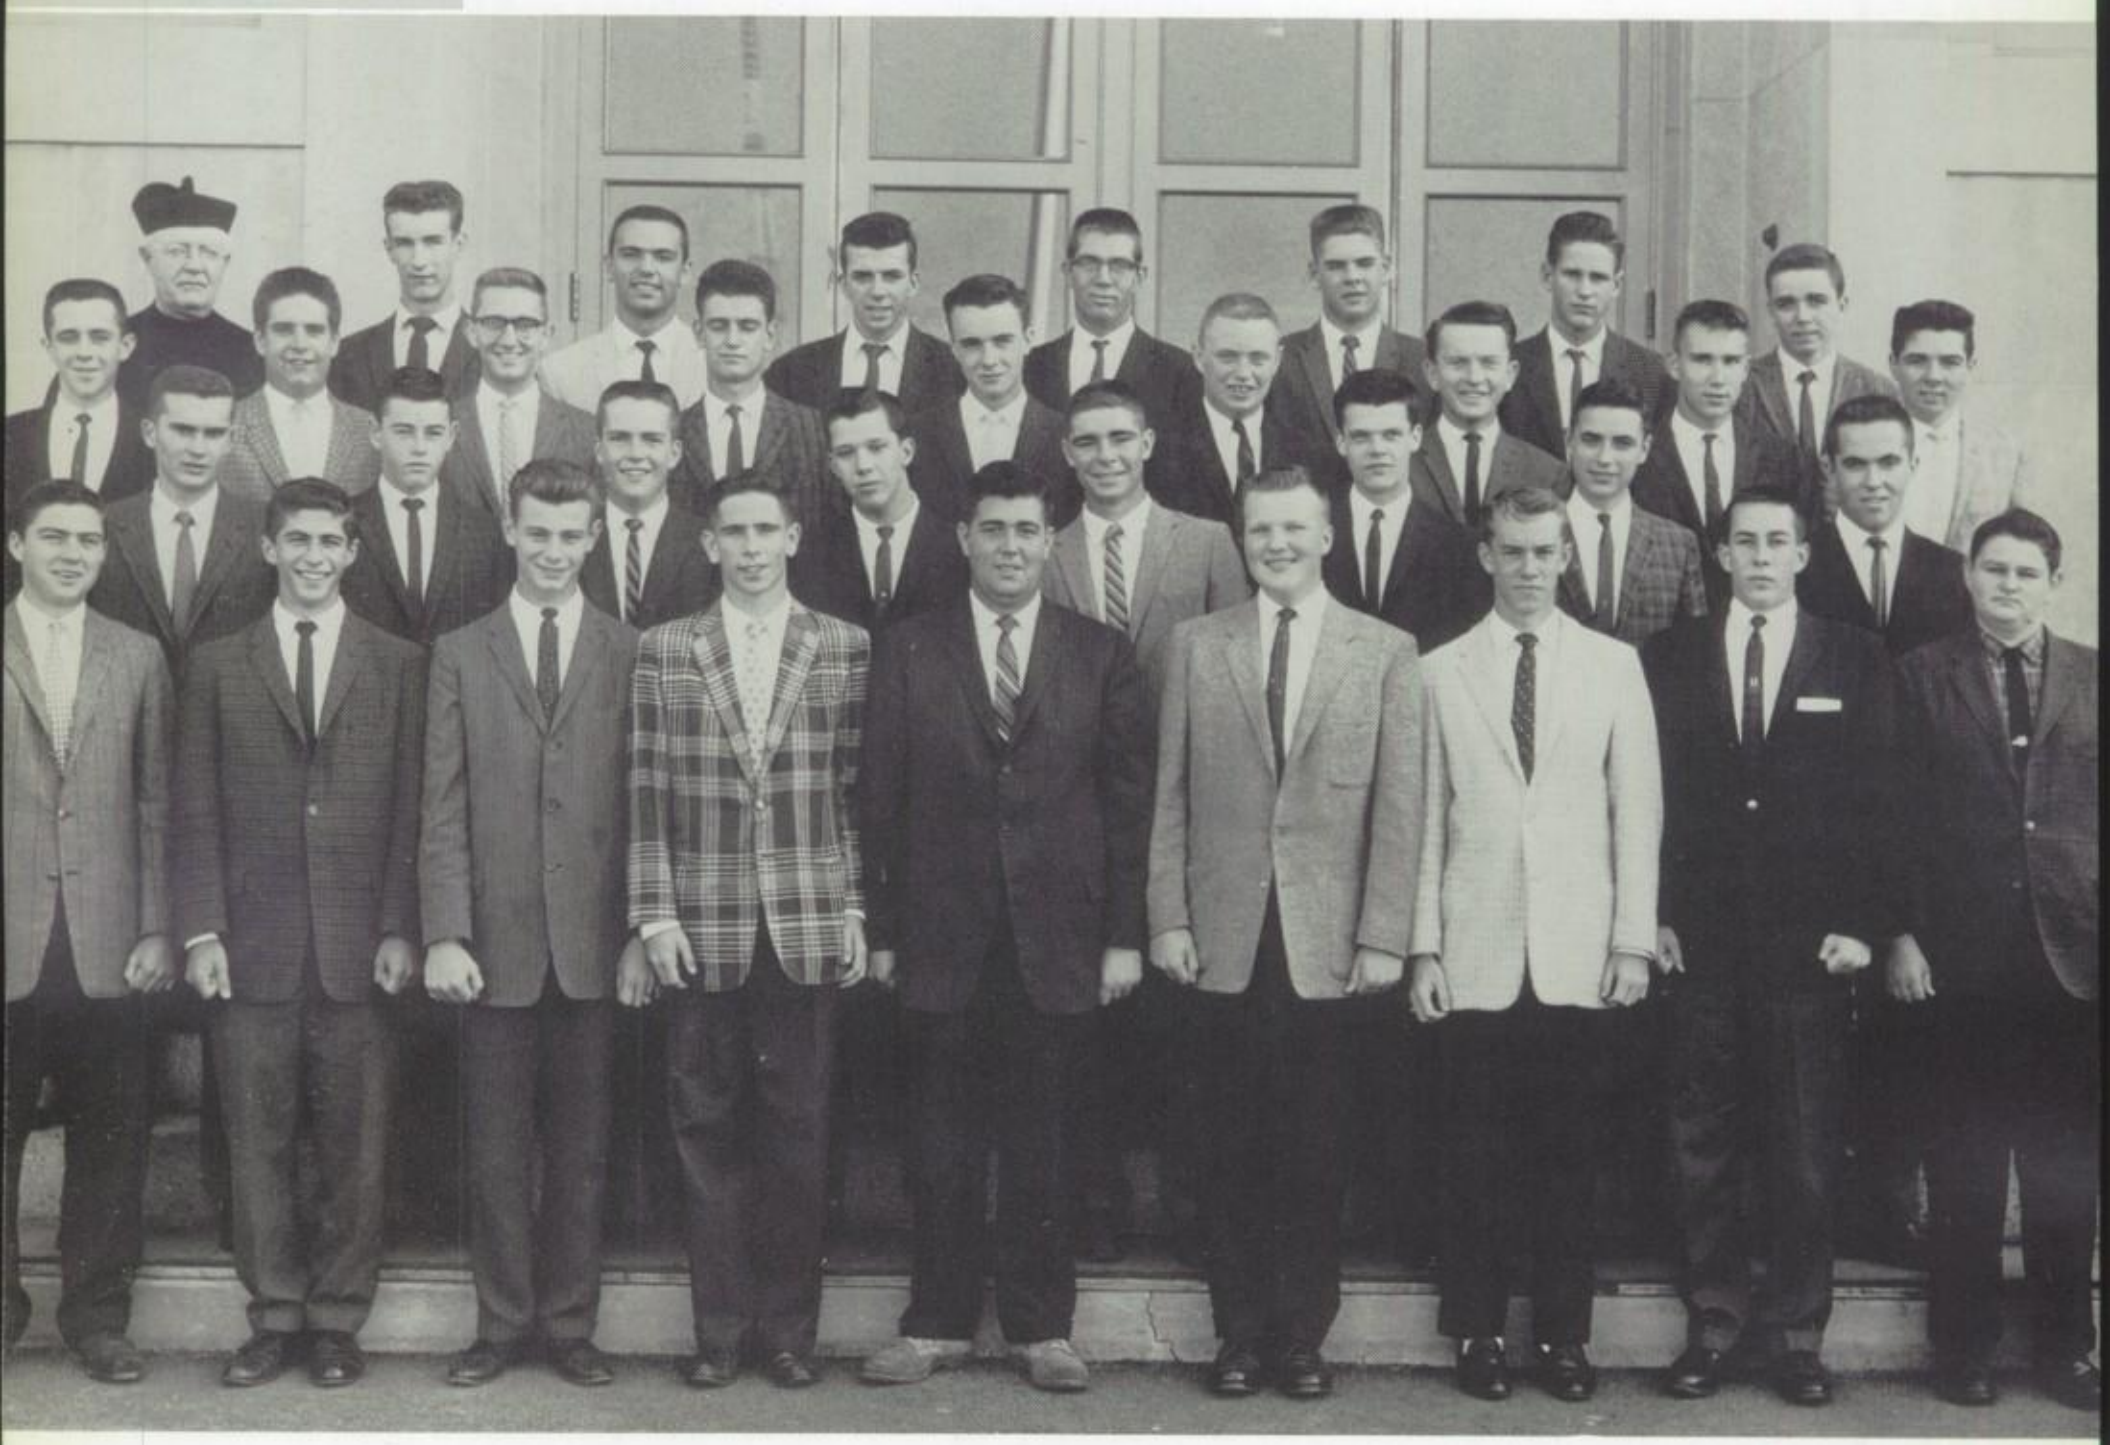
4-G Completed Its Rigorous Classical Studies



Back: Fr. Scannell, S.J., O'Brien, O'Connor, Walsh, Skinner, Mullaney, Karbott, Mulvey. Third: Hanson, Hamilton, Lyons, Rondeau, Miller, Forry, Norris, Curtin, Feeney. Second: R. Kelly, Tangney, O'Keeffe, Greco, Mackin, J. Kelly, Murphy, McKillop. Front: Capobianco, Falco, Megow, Connolly, Keough, Stankunas, Johnson, Glennon, Daley.

Synonymous with May was spring, and, in 4-G, among other things our minds turned to thoughts of graduation. Leading us through the rigorous classical studies of Latin and English, as well as Religion, was our competent homeroom teacher, Fr. Scannell, S.J. Fr. St. Onge, S.J., firmly implanted in us a cultural knowledge of France and her people. Fr. Sullivan's thorough knowledge of his subject combined with his striking presentations made the intricacies of Advanced Math easy to understand. Mr. Hanrahan, S.J., lucidly explained and demonstrated the involved theories of Chemistry . . . Our spirited class manifested its political acumen by electing Leo Curtin as President, Hubie Walsh as Veep, Ken Hamilton as Scribe and Larry Keough as Purser . . . Our scholastic leaders were Messrs. Curtin, Falco, Hamilton, Hunt, Kelly, Keough and Stankunas . . . Athletically, we were represented on the gridiron by Capt. Skinner and G. Mackin. Our basketball sharpshooters included Co-Capt. Anderson, J. Tagney and M. Norris. Our track speedsters were L. Curtin, C. Johnson and J. O'Brien . . . 4-G won the B.C. High Track Olympics in October with 35 pts. . . . Counted among the Sodalists were R. Kelly, L. Keough, and J. Mulvey . . . 4-G was well represented in the French Academy by President L. Megow, Veep G. Falco, Scribe R. Kelly, D. McKillop, J. Mulvey and H. Walsh and in the Math Academy by Messrs. Glennon, Hamilton, Hanson and Stankunas. . . . Current Events members were Messrs. J. Mulvey and R. Lyons. Our representative in the Bapst Debating Society was R. Lyons. Our RENAISSANCE Leaders were Co-Editor G. Falco, Associate Editors, D. McKillop, L. Megow, J. O'Brien and rewrite men: L. Curtin, L. Feeney, E. Forry, R. Glennon, L. Keough, R. Murphy, N. O'Keeffe, J. Rondeau and H. Walsh . . . E. Forry was our lensman on the BOTOLPHIAN and the RENAISSANCE . . . We will always be loyal to our class motto: "Viri, prospicite, respicite et vivite!"—Men look back, look ahead and live!

Back: Franklin, Shea, Masterson, St. Croix, Hession, Coughlin, Geary, Amrhein. Third: Tranas, P. F. X. O'Brien, Herendeen, J. Connor, Morley, Steriti, Dolan, Garvey, M. Connor. Second: Rourke, Kiley, Reid, Costa, Ryan, Calhoun, Doucette, Szymanski. Front: Fr. Power, S.J., McDevitt, P. Hogan, McCarthy, O'Day, Conner, P. F. O'Brien, J. Hogan, Sergi.

June, highlighted by an upward surge of spirits, signaled the forthcoming final exams and the end of the school year. Commencement exercises marked the dawning of summer and the launching of our careers. The memories of 4-H were tempered by the anticipation of the future . . . Our class was adroitly directed by Fr. Power, S.J., in Virgil's "Aeneid," Homer's "Iliad" and Shakespeare's "Macbeth." Under the capable tutelage of Fr. Sheridan, S.J., in French and Fr. Hanlon, S.J., in German, we acquired vast knowledge according to modern methods. Fr. Buck, S.J., drilled us in the essentials of Chemistry, while Mr. Claffey imparted the fundamentals of Physics. Fr. Sullivan, S.J., Fr. Doyle, S.J. and Mr. Farricy piloted us in the intricacies of Math . . . Our top notch politicians were President W. O'Day, Veep F. Coughlin, Scribe J. Garvey and Bursar D. Hession . . . The academic labors of Messrs. Amrhein, J. Connor, Costa, Coughlin, Garvey, Geary, Hogan, P. F. X. O'Brien and O'Day were crowned with honors . . . John Garvey and Paul F. X. O'Brien emerged as Gold Medalists in dramatics . . . W. O'Day, Editor, J. Kiley, General Manager, L. Amrhein, G. Calhoun, S. Conner, M. Connor, F. Coughlin, J. Garvey, P. Morley, P. F. X. O'Brien, K. Reid, J. Rourke and D. Tranas numbered among the high ranking personnel of the BOTOLPHIAN . . . Led by Prefect G. Calhoun, Messrs. Amrhein, Conner, Franklin, Hogan, McCarthy, P. F. O'Brien, Rourke and Sergi actively participated in the Sodality . . . On the RENAISSANCE roster were S. Conner, P. F. O'Brien, and J. McCarthy . . . We were proud of our Bapst debaters: G. Calhoun, D. Hession, J. Hogan, W. O'Day, K. Reid and J. Rourke . . . Athletically, we were represented by Co-Captain Shea and M. Conner in track; by Ryan, Shea and Steriti on the gridiron; by Costello in basketball; and by Hession and P. F. X. O'Brien on the diamond . . . Speaking for the entire senior class, we all realize that we are only at the beginning of our educational experience and we will never forget our debt of gratitude to our Alma Mater.

THE JUNIOR CLASS

Three-hundred and twenty-five eager Juniors, having assisted at a dialogue Mass, celebrated by Rev. Francis J. Gilday, S.J., Rector, proudly filed into McElroy Hall on the first day of school—September 7, 1961. After the first day of Schola Brevis, the monumental task of translating and assimilating Cicero's Catilinian and Verrine orations began. While two Science classes, 3-A and 3-B, analyzed the chemical composition of inorganic substances by means of both theory and laboratory procedure, the remaining Junior classes continued their study of Xenophon's Anabasis and Homer's Odyssey. A deeper knowledge of American Literature from colonial to modern times was gained. The principles of Catholicism, explicitly defined in the Apostles' Creed, were subjected to a thorough study and investigation. We resumed our study of algebraic theory and formulae in Mathematics. A modern language, either French or German, rounded out our curricular studies. An all-inclusive extra-curricular program enabled everyone to develop harmoniously his spiritual, intellectual and social abilities. Many Juniors enhanced the prestige of B.C. High with their athletic achievements. Concluding our Junior year with final exams on June 1st, we eagerly look forward to a long summer vacation and our final year at B.C. High.

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS

Eagerly anticipating Sept. 7, 1961 and the opening of a new academic year, our Sophomore contingent comprising 350, were jubilant when the opening day of school arrived. After the Mass of the Holy Ghost, we became acquainted with our new teachers. A new language, Greek, was included in our Classical curriculum. After mastering the Greek declensions, conjugations and vocabulary, we were able to translate Xenophon's Anabasis in the second semester. In Geometry we investigated the relations, properties and measurements of solids, surfaces, lines and angles. Translating Henle's revised edition of Caesar's Gallic expeditions kept us busy for two semesters. Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar" deepened our knowledge of human nature. Can we ever forget those immortal lines from the speech of Mark Anthony: "The evil that men do, lives after them; the good is oft interred in their bones." Moreover the doctrines and practice of our Catholic faith were more thoroughly appreciated in our Religion classes.

To round our education out, we gained a historical perceptive of the United States in "The Rise of the American Nation" by learning that the U.S. is one of the great nations of the world—probably the greatest—in terms of wealth and strength. But it has become successful because, taken as a whole, the history of the U.S. has been that of bold and exciting experiments in founding a society on faith in human intelligence, freedom, brotherhood and in God.

THE FRESHMAN CLASS

September 7, 1961 inspired mingled feelings of awe and anxiety in the minds and hearts of 430 intrepid Freshmen as they commenced their first day of school at B.C. High. After attending the inspiring Mass of the Holy Ghost, celebrated by Rev. Francis J. Gilday, S.J., Rector, in the huge play area, they flocked hesitantly to their new classrooms where they were welcomed by their Jesuit-trained teachers. After the usual adjustment period, all classes buckled down promptly in the pursuit of knowledge. In Religion, students were trained to know their duties as Catholics and to realize that their lives must be dominated by ideals and principles. A comprehensive course in World History was also prescribed for all Freshmen. Four sections, 1-A, 1-E, 1-H and 1-L, undertook the study of Modern Algebra, a course devised by the School Mathematics Study Group, who, under a grant from the National Science Foundation, wrote the textbooks for this unique course. Other classes undertook the standard course in Algebra. Two sections, 1-A and 1-E, commenced the study of Latin according to the Sweet direct method, while the others pursued the study of Latin according to the traditional method. Three sections, 1-E, 1-H and 1-L, used a new approach to the study of English Literature and Composition in the Pageant of Literature Series. A wide variety of modern literary genres-poetry, fiction and non-fiction—was read and analyzed. Other sections pursued the standard English course in the St. Thomas More Series. All Freshmen were urged to participate actively in one or more extra-curricular activites. These activities were stressed as important factors in their lives, developing as they do the students' social character and offering opportunities for the exercise of leadership and initiative.

Thirteen American colonies faced catastrophe when the Revolutionary War began. A few million people in the New World defied one of the greatest powers in the Old World. The colonists had no army, no navy. They had no central government. They had one cause—the greatest of all—the love of liberty. Men rallied to this cause. One of them was Paul Revere. He became famous for his ride with William Dawes on the night of April 18, 1775 through the Middlesex villages to warn the people of the British expedition to Concord. Monuments have been erected to Patriots like Paul Revere and the Minutemen in Boston and Lexington. Heroic as they were, the colonists did not win the War for Independence alone. As David Ramsay wrote in 1789 in The History of the American Revolution, "In establishing American Independence, the pen and the press have a merit equal to the sword." . . . Extra-curricular activities such as The RENAISSANCE and The BOTOLPHIAN which strive to cultivate a journalistic and a literary spirit have always been encouraged at Boston College High. Other varied activities appealed to the students' taste and inclinations, whether they are forensic or scientific, cultural or artistic. The SODALITIES promote, by word and example, purity of life and fidelity in the practice of religion. DEBATING SOCIETIES seek to develop clear thinking, poise, self-confidence and fluency in speaking from Freshman to Senior Year. The LANGUAGE AND SCIENCE ACADEMIES establish a spirit of companionship and friendly competition among the students . . . Centuries ago the Prince of Peace said, "You shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free." Our school activities seek to defend our free society in which men always may enjoy a free and open encounter with the truth.

Senior Sodalists centered their attention during the current year on two major fields: the development of the cell movement and the promotion of closer ties with other school Sodalities by means of frequent correspondence . . . Senior leaders promoted the cell movement among undergraduate Sodalists. A cell is a group of six people who work together as a team for the Sodality. Each cell has a chosen leader. The leaders conduct the activities of the cell and issue assignments . . . Through their research on topics such as education, Senior Sodalists developed a realization of the serious defects in modern education, and, visiting many Archdiocesan schools, presented the Catholic solution to this problem . . . dalists this year concentrated their Apostolates on parish catechetics, hospital work, the liturgy and the Ecumenical Council, under the direction of Mr. Berard, S.J., and Mr. Colavecchio, S.J., Moderators . . . The members continued to utilize the spiritual and apostolic means proposed by the Sodality to the end that Christ might grow in them, and in others through them. Cell meetings, training days, daily compliance with the Rules, and especially a devotion to the Mass and Sacraments, were means for the accomplishment of this end . . . On Jan. 24, 1962, Fr. John Mowatt celebrated a Byzantine Mass for the student body in the observance of the Chair of Unity Octave. This Mass was sponsored by the Sodality.

On Jan. 24th, the Sodality sponsored a Mass in the Byzantine liturgy for the student body which was celebrated by Fr. John J. Mowatt in observance of the annual Chair of Unity Octave.

Aware that the layman is the Church's contact with the social order, the Sodality program strived to deepen the candidates' union with Christ so that they, as individuals and as a group, may bring Christ and His views to their environment . . . Noteworthy in the Sophomore Sodality program this year were: several days of recollection; meetings conducted according to the cell technique; and help given at an orphanage, a home for the aged and a settlement house . . . The moderators of the Freshman Sodality, Fr. Graham, S.J., Mr. Messer, S.J., and Mr. Murphy, S.J., explained to the Sodalists that the Sodality was really a period of probation, after which the applicant could be admitted to the Sophomore Sodality as a consecrated member. The five characteristics of a Sodalist were reviewed.

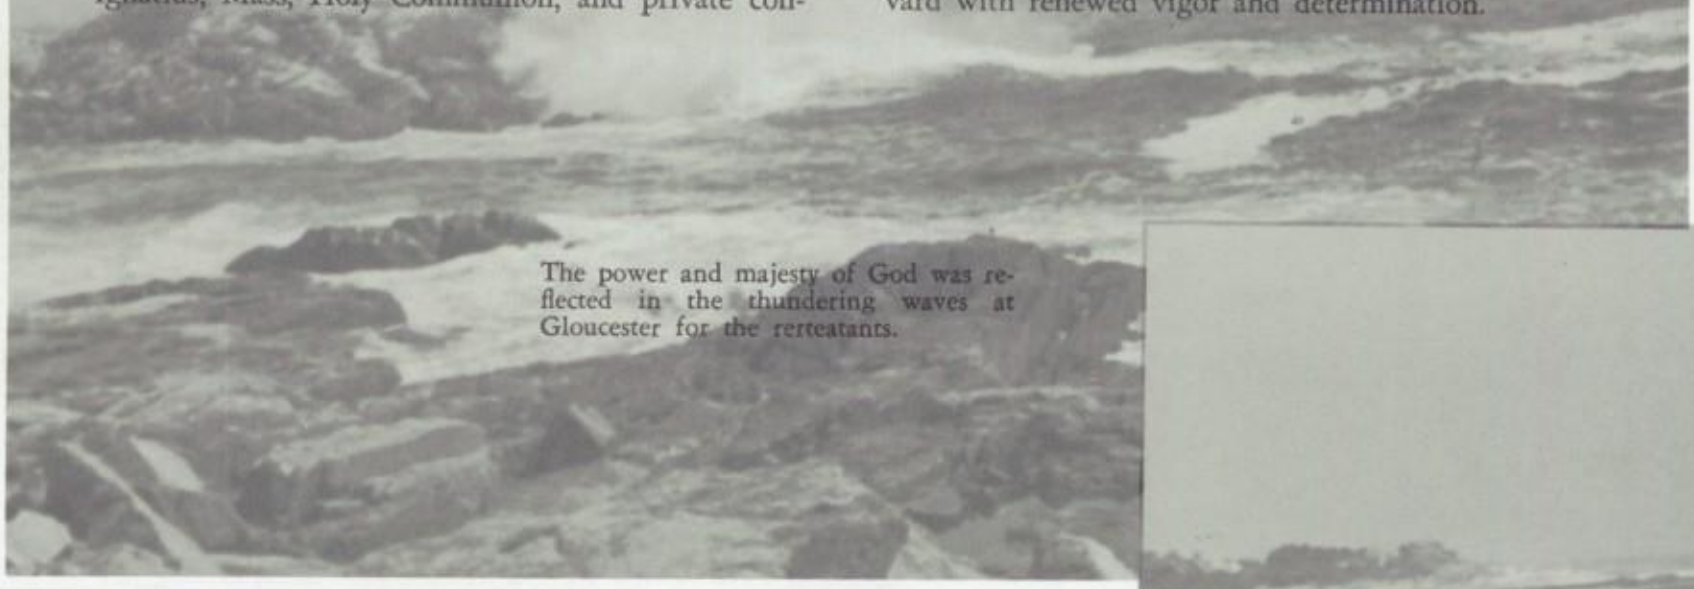
CLOSED RETREATS AT GONZAGA HALL

The Eastern Point Retreat House at Gloucester.

Seniors and Juniors made a closed retreat sectionally at Gonzaga Hall at Eastern Point, Gloucester, from the last week in September to the middle of December. The purpose of these retreats was to discover the meaning of life and to try to understand what Christ meant when He asked men to learn of Him. Meditations on the famous Exercises of St. Ignatius, Mass, Holy Communion, and private conferences with Jesuit priests, who have been specially trained for this work, were factors which contributed to the success of these three days spent with God in silence and solitude. The environment was eminently suitable for deep meditation. The compelling majesty and mystery of the thundering tides at Eastern Point were an inspiring sight. All returned to the Boulevard with renewed vigor and determination.



The power and majesty of God was reflected in the thundering waves at Gloucester for the rerteatants.

Bob Lyons, Senior, meditates beside the sea at Eastern Point.

OPEN RETREAT IN DEVER HALL

Four hundred and twenty-five Freshmen attended their first Open Retreat on Morrissey Boulevard from Sept. 11th to the 13th under the capable direction of Fr. James J. Mohan, S.J., Student Counselor. The highlights of the Spiritual Exercises of St. Ignatius Loyola were thoroughly explained by the spiritual director. Each retreatant participated daily in a Dialogue Mass, attended the spiritual conferences and recited the Rosary . . . 353 Sophomores made their second Open Retreat on Oct. 9th, 10th and 11th. Rev. Robert P. Phalen, S.J., Pastor of St. Mary's Church in the North End, was the inspiring Retreat Master. These three days provided the retreatants with an excellent opportunity to evaluate themselves spiritually and morally—an experience as rewarding as it was memorable.

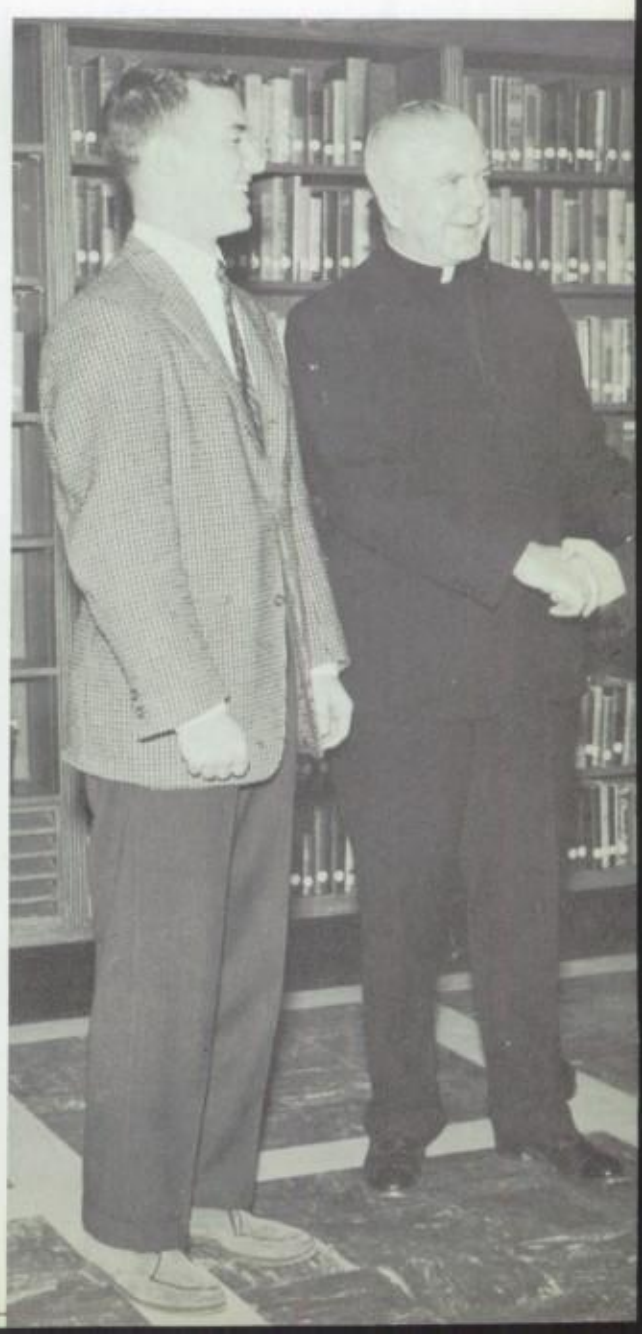
SPOKESMEN FOR SENIORS-JUNIORS

Senior Class President, Frank Dahlstrom, welcomes back our Alumni, the newly ordained priests of the Archdiocese of Boston on Feb. 7, 1962 in Dever Hall.



SENIOR COUNCIL

Eight presidential candidates emerged victorious in the November Primaries. After a vigorous campaign, complete with a gala parade and spirited rallies in the Parking Area, Frank Dahlstrom was elected Senior Class President and Bob Malloy, Vice President. Automatically, each section president became a member of the Senior Council. The ninth member of the Senior Council, this year, was Gerry Calhoun, Prefect of the Senior Sodality . . . Senior Council members widely publicized the school play—"The Strong Are Lonely"—by arousing school spirit and interest in the sale and distribution of tickets throughout the school . . . Various meetings, presided over by Fr. Frank J. Griffin, S.J., were held throughout the year. The time and place for such events as the RENAISSANCE Record Hop and the Senior Prom were decided upon by the Senior Council. The 1962 Senior Prom promised to be an even bigger success than last year . . . Another worthwhile project that the Senior Council unanimously approved and endorsed was the Class Donation which was the presentation, this year, of a stained glass window for the chapel in Loyola Hall, the faculty residence. Since 1949 each succeeding Senior Class has donated an appropriate memento of its love and devotion to its Alma Mater.

ORIGINALITY AND ENTHUSIASM HIGH LIGHT THE 1962 RENAISSANCE

THE RENAISSANCE

Able, willing and capable, 90 would-be journalists thronged the RENAISSANCE Room on Oct. 2nd to register as members. Fr. Frank Griffin, S.J., skillfully guided this enthusiastic group from the infancy of the 1962 RENAISSANCE to its completion in March. The RENAISSANCE is more than a memory book captured in pictures. It is a pictorial summary of memorable events and the living history of Boston College High. Members of the Literary and Business Departments, under the capable leadership of Co-Editor Gene Falco and Managing Editor Ralph Dolan, assisted by Associate Editors—Joe Galeota, Don McKillop, Brendan Minihan, Bill McCarthy, Leo Megow, John and Paul O'Brien—comprised its family. These RENAISSANCE men spearheaded and inspired the other members to devote long, rewarding hours of labor and research. It is this family spirit which united the members with a tremendous esprit de corps . . . Others who contributed their invaluable service were Messrs. Ansello, Callahan, Conner, DiSciullo, Gilarde, Lukaszewicz, J. McCarthy, McDonough, Merrick, Murphy, Nash, O'Keeffe, Pasciucco Rondeau and Whelan . . . While the literary personnel hammered away on the typewriters from October to December, polishing up the 289 individual write-ups of the Seniors, our business personnel feverishly accumulated new clients to advertise in the yearbook. When this literary segment was completed, it was sent to O'Toole and Sons of South Norwalk, Conn., on Dec. 26th . . . Write-ups of curricular and extra-curricular activities and sports were completed on Feb. 23rd. Finally in March all typed material, including the advertisements, had been forwarded to the publishers . . . The theme of our publication this year was our American Heritage. We took a long, hard look at our American principles, the laws of Nature built into the very structure of man, which were written for the first time into human law by the Declaration of Independence. Every sound philosophy, religious belief and social reform has been based upon these same principles . . . History did not begin with the invention of the automobile. America's wealth is in her tradition and tradition is what America has received from the past. We believe you cannot appreciate the present unless you understand the past.

BOTOLPHIAN

THE BOTOLPHIAN, our school magazine, is issued three times during the school year—at Christmas, Lent, and Commencement. The Botolphian has both serious literary work and humor, as well as a review of all school sports and activities and significant school news . . . In the Christmas issue thoughtful articles like "Current Opinions on Poetic Inspiration" by Stephen Conner, '62; "Why Not Have A Real Christmass" by John Kelly, '62; and "Tuberculosis" by Paul O'Brien, '62; represented the scholarly and serious interest of B.C. High student in a variety of subjects. But in this issue the Botolphian was balanced with humorous stories, such as, "Went with the Wind" by William Walker, '65, and "Never Trust a Home-Made Monster" by Joseph Harvey, '63. Perhaps the most interesting type of story to read and the most difficult to write well is a good short story—like "No One for Tea" by John Fox, '62; "Discovery" by John Buckley, '64; and "New York City" by Donald Mugnai, '62 . . . The well-read sports section of the Botolphian is an interesting and comprehensive review of all the sports events that B.C. High has participated in during the months preceding each issue. Writeups of football, hockey, basketball, baseball and track make it possible for every reader to look back on the high points of the season, think about the entire season in perspective, and even do a little belated Monday morning quarterbacking. Writing for the Botolphian and setting up the issues for publication are experiences useful both for work in college and for life after college.

BAPST DEBATING SOCIETY

Named in honor of Fr. John Bapst, S.J., a famous and intrepid missionary in the early days of New England, the Bapst Debating Society was divided into two sections for the second consecutive year. The first section, under the able direction of Fr. Paul Nelligan, S.J., held weekly debates on such controversial topics as the Berlin Issue, the United Nations Bond Issue and the possibilities of a state sales tax . . . A second section of selected debaters, under the direction of Fr. William Doyle, S.J., devoted its time to inter-scholastic Tournament debates on the national topic: Resolved, that the Federal Government should equalize educational opportunities by means of grants to public elementary and secondary schools . . . Four members of this group, Messrs. Fox, O'Day, Naylor and Diamond represented B.C. High in several successful C.Y.O. Tournament Debates. Plans were also made to meet several high schools on a non-tournament basis. The Society planned to engage in as many debates as possible this year. Moderator and members alike looked forward to many successful engagements.

McELROY DEBATING SOCIETY

This year the McElroy Debating Society in its weekly meetings debated numerous topics treating the political, social and ethical problems of the era. However, the Society concentrated on the national topic for high school debating: "Resolved: That the Federal Government should equalize educational opportunity by means of grants to the states for public elementary and secondary education."

Meetings of the Society have been held in cell form on alternate weeks with Mr. Carty S.J., Mr. Harney S.J., and Mr. Shea each working with a group of twelve members. This arrangement helped the moderators to give more particularized attention to the members . . . The purpose of the Society, to develop the student's power of analysis, argumentation, and eloquence and to prepare its members for varsity debating was fully satisfied when several of its members advanced to the Varsity Debating team and participated in a number of tournaments. Members of the McElroy early realized that excellence in debating was only to be attained at the price of individual exertion and perseverance. They know, too, that the many hours of research and practice in speaking would advance them to their goal of accomplished speakers and debaters in the traditionally excellent B.C. High manner.

Serving as an introduction to debating procedure and a testing ground for fledgling debaters, the Loyola Debating Society met weekly. It sought to arouse and sustain a critical interest in public affairs among its freshman members through the presentation of debates on topics of current interest. The basic techniques of public speaking were taught and members encouraged to acquire a strong respect for logical thought and courteous presentation of arguments. Experience was gained by the members by participation in intra-mural debates, contact debates and a Freshman Debating Tournament. Membership was restricted to those freshmen who were willing to perform the work necessary for the successful training of debaters. Contingents of the Loyola Debating Society were under the direction of Mr. Paradis, S.J.

PARENTS' NIGHT

Parents' Night was held Tuesday evening, Nov. 14, 1961 for Freshmen and Seniors and Wednesday evening, Nov. 15, 1961 for Sophomores and Juniors. Through these revealing consultations, parents were introduced to the teachers of their son and learned about his successes and shortcomings in a cordial and informal atmosphere. More consistent and concentrated study was mutually agreed on as the main solution of most scholastic problems. An added attraction, this year, was the Book Fair which was held in Dever Hall during these evenings and proved to be very worthwhile and enlightening both for parents and students. Finally, parents were conducted on an interesting tour of the school which included visiting the Chemistry and Physics Laboratories, the Mellyn Chapel, the Library, and the outdoor shrine of Our Lady.

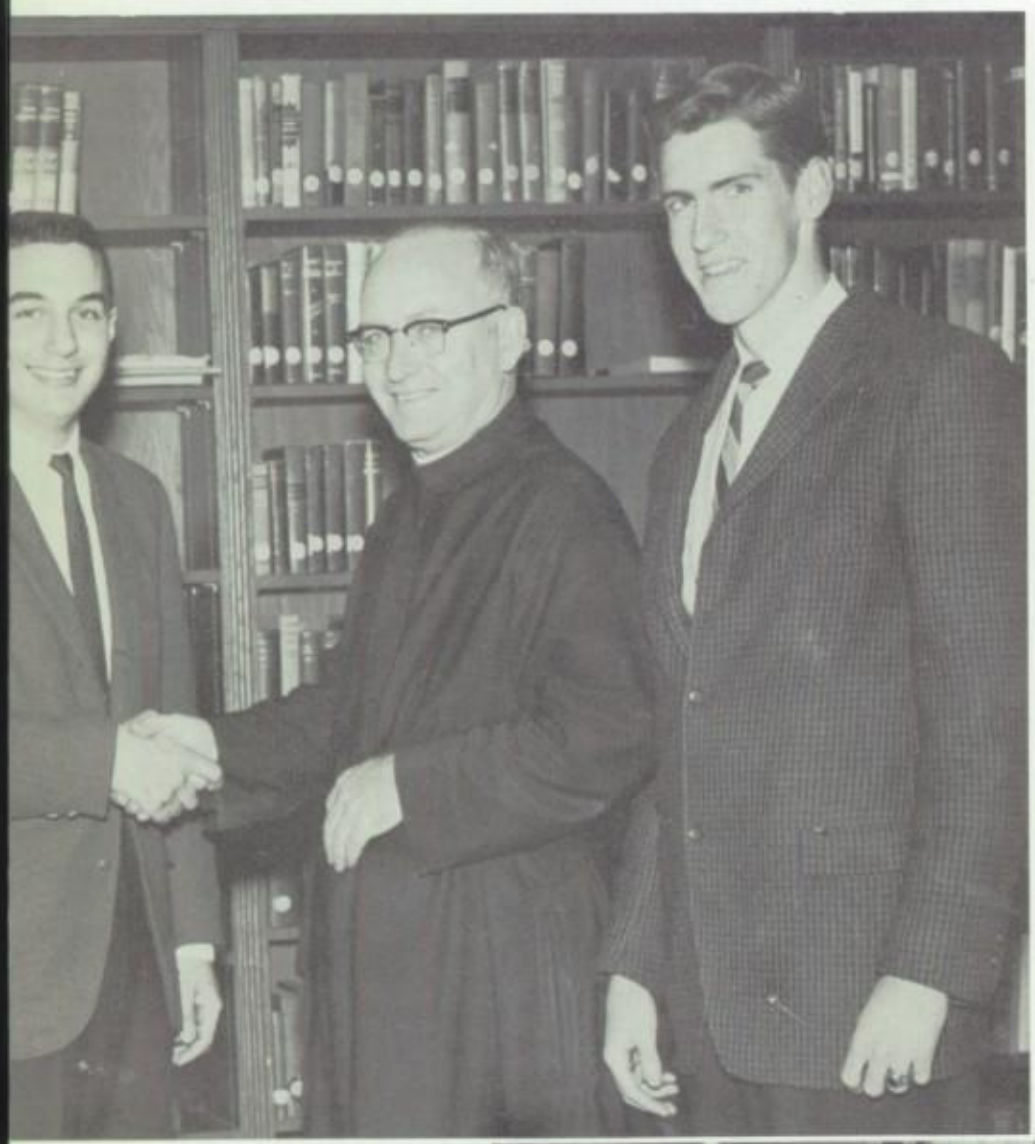
ARE LONELY" WAS AN INSPIRING DRAMA.



DRAMATICS

Moral choice and loyalty, discipline and freedom, materialism and spiritual strength were the echoing theme of the Dramatic Society's Fall production, The Strong Are Lonely, which was presented on the evenings of Nov. 29th and 30th. The play concerned the Jesuit Reduction or settlements which were formed in the State of Paraguay, and the Spanish hatred for them. For many years the Jesuits labored to establish the Church in South America and, suddenly with one greedy stroke of the Spanish king's pen, their efforts were destroyed. John Garvey played the part of Father Provincial, who must destroy all his work by ordering the dispersal of the Reduction. At first he rebels and follows blindly his own desires of preserving his work, but is finally forced to yield when Rome backs up the Spanish decree. The part demanded tremendous ability in presenting the internal conflict and upheaval of a man torn between two alliances. Paul O'Brien portrayed the part of the King's deputy sent to deliver and enforce the edict of destruction which he believed to be unjust. It took skillful interpretation to depict a basically just man forced into the awkward position of carrying out an injustice.

Directed by Mr. John Hanrahan, S.J., the Science Club was the scientific complement to B.C. High's extracurricular activities. The purpose of the Science Club was to give students a genuine insight into the methods of scientific thought. The response and enthusiasm of the club's membership indicated the value of this approach. For, from week to week, members were asked to deliver lectures and perform demonstrations in some field of Science interesting to them . . . After the election of John Fox as President, Ronald Contrado as Vice-President, the club began planning the year's activities. Its main concern was the annual March Science Fair. This exhibition was held in the Physics and Chemistry Laboratories. Original and eye-catching projects were displayed. Fields of interest pursued by the club members ranged from radiochemistry to natural history. The Science Fair provided the club members with an opportunity to display their scientific talents and gave the general public an occasion to see their original exhibits.

UNDERGRADUATE SCIENCE AND LATIN ACADEMIES

This year's Sophomore-Freshman contingent of the B.C. High Science Club was one of the most active in the twenty-one years of its existence. The Moderator for this contingent was Mr. Edward Howard, S.J. Trips to M.I.T. and Harvard proved to be both interesting and educational. Movies such as The Man in Space and individual projects for the Science Fair were the highlights of this year's activities . . . The officers chosen for this year were President, Joseph Ryan; Vice-President, Kevin Maguire; Treasurer, Ronald Jones; Secretary, Robert DiNitto. This able slate proved able to cope with all work concerning this year's activities . . . Each Wednesday afternoon found a small but spirited group of Freshmen assembled in Room 2-K for the Latin Academy. The first part of the year was spent in learning about the Romans, their laws and mode of living. The second semester centered about the language itself. The group was now familiarized with the intricacies of Latin. Great stress was placed upon the fact that Latin was not a "dead" language but rather lives on in the English and Romance languages. Word ancestry and preparation for the Auxilium Latinum national examination were stressed during this semester.

BELLARMINE AND CAMPION ACADEMIES

Each Wednesday, the Bellarmine Latin Academy members heard John Lee's Latin notice for their weekly colloquium. First semester work featured Christ the King, Dies Irae and Adeste Fideles as suggested by the litury; a Latin Campaign poster display, mounts on Roman Daily Life, a guided tour of the Roman Antiquities at the Art Museum, and a first-time-ever lecture at the school by a member of the Art Museum as well as a film strip on the Roman House. In the second semester, Mr. Doherty, S.J., lectured on "Etymology." Subsequent meetings considered Niobe and her Children, the Fables of Aesop and Livy in addition to readings from Auxilium Latinum and preparation for the nationwide Latin test. Academicians voted Messr. Ridge as President, Lee, Vice-President, Caraber as Scribe and Paglierani as Treasurer . . . This year's goal for the Campion English Academy was more extensive reading of present-day literature. Fiction was emphasized and the first works read were two satires: Evelyn Waugh's The Loved One and George Orwell's Animal Farm. The novel form was thoroughly analyzed in the stories of Eric Ambler, Paul Horgan, and John Steinbeck. Some of G. B. Harrison's critical writing on Shakespeare was seen and varied anthology provided the basis for an anlysis of the short story.

Ably directed by Mr. Paradis, S.J., the French Academy enhanced its knowledge of conversational French and French culture. The emphasis was placed on fluency and pronunciation with all the members taking an active part in improving their ability. This aim was achieved by the reading of French Literature. The members' knowledge of French culture was augmented by conversations and records on French history . . . After all ballots were counted Leo Megow was elected President; Gene Falco, Vice-President; Bog Hegner, Secretary; and Bob Kelly, Treasurer . . . Limited to Seniors, the German Academy under the direction of Fr. Hanlon, S.J., adopted a new objective in the study of the German language. The oral-aural capabilities of the members were sharpened by listening to tapes and records and also by conversing in the German tongue. The members were encouraged to do extra reading of available material and, though few in number, all co-operated satisfactorily to make the program a success.

HISTORY AND CURRENT EVENTS ACADEMIES.

Directed by Fr. William P. Phalen, S.J., the History Academy, comprising 83 members met weekly. Speakers from various walks of life addressed the Academy. Among these were Maryknoll and Jesuit missionaries from Baghdad and Jamaica. There were also talks on the World Wars, the Cold War, politics and international crises. Many of the lectures were illustrated by color slides and movies which proved to be very interesting and educational. Each lecture was concluded by an informal question and answer period which gave the members a deeper insight into the personality of the lecturer . . . After the ballots were counted in the earlier part of the year, Ralph Dolan emerged as President of the History Academy; Dave Rice as Vice Pres.; Bill Dolan as Sergeant at Arms; Dick Shea, as Treas. and Dave Ahearn as Secretary . . . The Current Events Academy was capably directed this year by Mr. MacNeill, the Moderator. Normally the meetings began with a short explanatory talk by Mr. MacNeill on a national or international topic and then the members participated in a question and answer period. The Berlin Crisis and the European Common Market provided many interesting topics of discussion for the Academy.

CHESS AND STAMP CLUB

Thirty members comprised the Chess Club this year under the direction of Fr. Joseph O'Neill, S.J. Team captains, Ramunas Gurnius and Edmund Ward organized a Swiss Tournament which gave the best players an opportunity to excel and become members of the team . . . In a Swiss Tournament a player is not eliminated by a loss. Players having equal scores of wins and losses play each other. A sample score would be three wins and two losses. Draws score one half a point each . . . Although the team did not join the Metropolitan Chess League this year because of transportation difficulties for players, the tournament provided the members with an opportunity to improve their ability . . . The Stamp Club, a member of the Regis College Philatelic Society, met every Friday under the able supervision of Mr. O'Rourke, Moderator. New and old stamps were inspected, evaluated and exchanged. Various noted philatelists addressed the Club during the year.

SENIOR AND JUNIOR MATH ACADEMIES

SENIOR MATH LEADERS

L. to R.: Messrs. Hamilton, Co-Secretary; Stankunas, Treasurer; Grady, President; Fr. Sullivan, S.J., Moderator; Hanson, Vice President; Glennon, Co-Secretary.

Divided into two separate contingents this year, the Senior Math Academy obtained very satisfactory results under the direction of Fr. John W. Sullivan, S.J. The first contingent, comprising those students who had the regular Senior Math—namely, Trig in the first semester and Analytic Geometry in the second semester—met on Wednesdays and examined topics from Elementary Calculus. The emphasis was placed on the definitions of a derivative and of the definite integral, values of a function, area under a curve and between two curves and volumes of revolution. The second contingent, consisting of those boys who already had calculus in their regular Senior course, met on Friday afternoons. The subject matter for the Friday sessions was: the axioms of the real number system, vector spaces, with emphasis on two-dimensional vectors and analytic Geometry from a vector standpoint . . . The Junior Math Academy met weekly under the direction of Fr. Spillane, S.J. The first semester was devoted to the axiom, basic to all analysis that: "the real numbers form a complete linearly ordered field." In the second semester topics from Mathematical Logic were explained, analyzed and applied.

FRESHMAN – SOPHOMORE MATH ACADEMIES

Comprising thirty members, the Freshman Math Academy, under the direction of Fr. Harrigan, S.J., built up the concept of all positive and negative numbers, fractions, irrational numbers and finally the complex numbers. This system is called the new approach to Algebra, according to the Maryland Method . . . During the first semester the Sophomore Math Academy reviewed some of the uses of mathematics in the fields of astronomy, biology, chemistry and physics. Areas of particular interest were the planets and their orbits, Newton's research on the force of gravity and his prevision of the possibility of orbital flights of satellites. During the second semester particular emphasis was placed on an overview of mathematics as a science in itself and the place of algebra, geometry, trigonometry analytical geometry and calculus in this science. Group discussions were held on some of the most recent developments in science, particularly those in which mathematics played an important part. These included rockets and satellites, computers, radio-astronomy, atomic energy and others. As a whole the members were able during the year to get a broader appreciation of the field of mathematics.

SOIREES

SOIREE IN FULL SWING

Limited to Seniors and Juniors, three Soirees were enjoyed by 150 couples who danced to relaxing music in a congenial atmosphere. Dever Hall was the scene of these dances. It was skillfully decorated in a motif appropriate to the various seasons. The Mothers' Club of the St. Aloysius Guild sponsored these dances and generously contributed their time and skill to make them successful . . . The Autumn Soiree was held on Halloween, Oct. 31st which was followed by the Mid-Winter Soiree on Dec. 27th. The Spring Soiree took place during the Easter Recess in April. Each Soiree was followed by an appetizing collation, prepared by the Mothers' Club . . . All, who attended these dances, will always recall them as pleasant moments to remember.

RECORD HOPS

Every B. C. High boy, at one time or another, wends his way to Dever Hall for the weekly Record Hops. These gala events, sponsored by the St. Aloysius Guild of the Mothers' Club, have increased in popularity with each succeeding year. Disc-jockey Jay McMaster, a perennial favorite with teenagers, enlivened the evenings by playing top hits of the day as well as many tunes from the past. The popularity and success of these dances was due in a large measure to Father Crowley S.J., and the throngs of faithful students who attended them. Young ladies from Fontbonne Academy, Mt. St. Joseph's Academy, Mt. Trinity Academy. Ursuline Academy, Cardinal Cushing High School and many other schools vitalized many a Friday evening not only by their presence but also by their wit, charm and beauty.

Mr. Murphy, S.J., is about to play one of the masterpieces of Franz Liszt for Dick Kendall of the Music Academy.

Striving to increase in its members the knowledge and appreciation of various types of music, the Music Appreciation Academy held its weekly meetings under the direction of Mr. Richard Murphy, S.J., Moderator. According to this plan, music of well-known composers of the past such as Franz Liszt and Hector Berlioz and music of modern composers such as Béla Bartok and Igor Stravinsky, as well as jazz and musical comedies were presented. The purpose of this variety was to assist the members in furthering their musical interests and to prevent them from becoming overly centered in only one type of music to the exclusion of all others. Members attended a concert of the world-renowned Boston Symphony Orchestra and a musical comedy and deepened their musical appreciation of celebrated composers.

RADIO AND CAMERA CLUBS

B. C. High's amateur Radio Club, possessor of its own radio station, WIBCH in its second year of operation, has radically changed its format this year. Under the direction of its Moderator, Mr. Joseph Russell, a program of instruction was inaugurated. Weekly classes on radio theory and Morse Code were held and faithfully attended by eager and enthusiastic members. Station WIBCH operated on a day to day basis and made numerous contacts with other amateurs throughout the world . . . Members of the Camera Club believed that taking candid snapshots and developing them could be a very enjoyable and rewarding hobby if pursued in the right manner. The aim of the Club was to see that its members derived the most from their own industry. Members became well-informed with new techniques by guided tours through the WHDH radio and television studios, Boston Police Headquarters and the Boston Globe Plant. The most advantageous aspect of the Club was that it acquainted the members with actual darkroom work in which they could apply the techniques which they had seen and learned in the lectures and on the tours.

SPORTS NIGHT

Promoted by the Sponsors' Club and having received full coverage in the Boston newspapers, B. C. High's Sports Night on May 10, 1961 in the Dever Auditorium attracted a capacity crowd of fathers and sons. An interesting and varied entertainment was provided for all the sports fans present. Varsity Basketball and Track men were presented letters as tokens of their athletic abilities. Mr. Angelo Berlandi acted as Master of Ceremonies and introduced such headliners as Jim Hooley, B. C. High and now Boston College Basketball luminary, Red Martin, All-American hockey player of Boston College and B. C. Track Coach Gilligan. The Sports Night was capably conducted by Mr. Berlandi and thoroughly enjoyed by all. Other feature speakers were Rev. Father Rector, Father Morris, Head Coach Ted Galligan and Coach Hunter. Exhibition boxing matches and movies rounded out a perfect evening.

SENIOR PROM

June 5th will always be nostalgically recalled in future years by the 330 couples who attended the Senior Prom. Held at the beautiful Totem Pole Ballroom in Auburndale's Norumbega Park, a romantic atmosphere was created by the beautiful chandeliers and the scintillating music of Harry Marshard and his Orchestra. The pinnacle of the evening's activities was the Grand March and the selection of Kev Avery and Linda Milski as the King and Queen of the Prom. Afterwards Seniors and Juniors motored to Valle's Steak House in Newtown where all enjoyed a superb midnight supper.

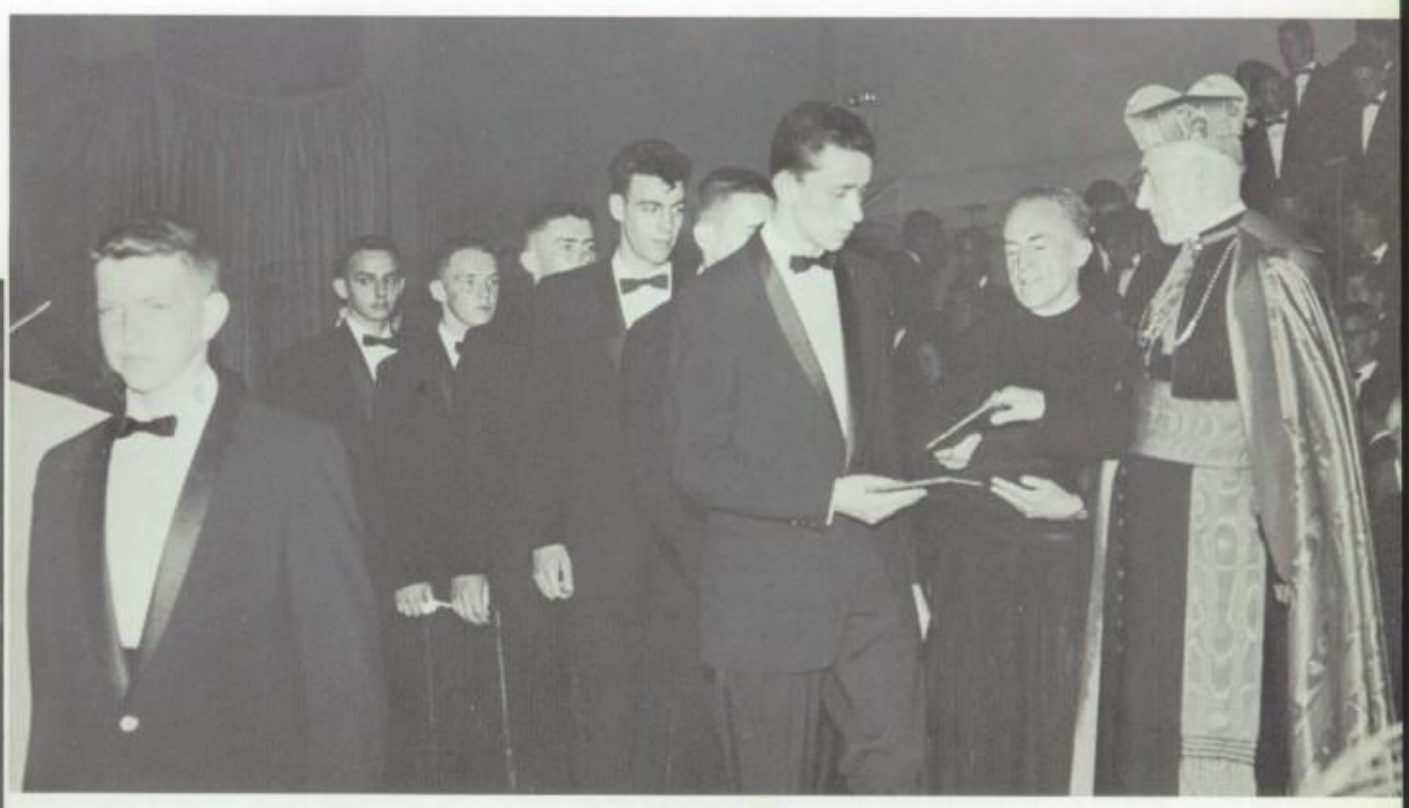
GRADUATION

ON STAGE: THE ENTIRE GRADUATING CLASS OF 1962

June 7, 1962, Graduation Day, marked the most important event in our four years at B. C. High. It seemed like yesterday that we entered Cushing Hall and met our Jesuit teachers for the first time. Now, more matured and equipped to face life with Christian fortitude, we assembled on the stage of McHugh Forum at Boston College. We were ready to meet whatever the future holds. Fr. Ambrose J. Mahoney, S.J., Principal, served as master of ceremonies, introducing first the Senior Class President, Francis A. Dahlstrom, Jr. and then the Rector, Fr. Francis J. Gilday, S.J. Thereupon His Eminence, Richard Cardinal Cushing, who was the featured speaker of the evening, reminded his audience that next year, 1963, would mark his own graduation from B. C. High fifty years ago. After his speech, His Eminence presented diplomas to the Seniors. With the distribution of diplomas and farewells to our own fellow classmates and teachers, the night ended and we became Alumni of B. C. High. We fervently hope that we will carry on the B. C. traditions and lead lives of spiritually vigorous Catholics in the future.

NOTABLES AT GRADUATION

L. to R.: Very Rev. James E. Coleran, S.J., Provincial of the New England Province of the Society of Jesus; His Eminence, Richard Cardinal Cushing '13 and Rev. Francis J. Gilday, S.J., '26, Rector.



His Eminence, Richard Cardinal Cushing confers diplomas on 289 members of the graduating class of 1962 after a stirring address.

ALUMNI

During the past year, the Alumni Association centered its attention on compiling the records of many departments of school activities since 1912. These included: Athletics, Faculty, Honor Graduates, Doctors, Lawyers, Priests and Seminarians. Many graduate classes have been working on the completion of their individual class directories. B. C. High welcomed back on Feb. 7, 1962 to a School Assembly seventeen of its Newly-Ordained secular priests who were the center of the School Vocation Day . . . At graduation in McHugh Forum of the class of 1962 on June 7, 1962, Rev. Father Rector presented to the Jubiliarians of the Class of 1912 Scrolls, testifying to the school's pride in them. This year as the school nears its Hundredth Anniversary, the five year Classes of 1912, 1917, 1922, 1927, 1932, 1937, 1942, 1947, 1952 and 1957 held reunions in May and June.

Fr. James O'Brien, S.J., former teacher at B. C. High and spokesman for the newly-ordained Jesuit Alumni, addresses the Senior-Junior Assembly in Dever Hall on Oct. 6, 1961.

Early in the morning of April 19, 1775, embattled farmers gathered on Lexington Green to ward off the British. Alerted by Paul Revere's famous ride, these Minutemen were commanded by Captain John Parker. At four-thirty in the morning the enemy was in sight. The Minutemen lined up along the Lexington Green and received the now famous order, "Stand your ground, don't fire unless fired upon, but if they mean to have war, let it begin here." The British were first to fire and thus the Minutemen defended their ideals and fought back. Since the Redcoats were so many, a retreat was ordered by Parker. The American Revolution had begun and the rest is history . . . Who were these Minutemen of the Revolution? George William Curtis at a centennial celebration described them as ". . . the old, the middle-aged and the young, the rural citizens trained in the common school, the church and the town meeting, who carried a bayonet that thought, and whose gun, loaded with a principle, brought down not a man but a system." In other words the Minutemen kept themselves always physically fit so that their clever ambush, skilled marksmanship and canny use of a stone wall or a tree for shield could never be matched by a line of solemn soldiers drawn up in red coats to make an even better target . . . Long before President Kennedy had urged a Physical Fitness program for American youth, a laudable and time-honored feature in the Jesuit educational system for more than four hundred years is the firm belief that mental fitness is inevitably connected with physical fitness — mens sana in corpore sano . . . The next pages present B.C. High men who were our representatives on the baseball diamond, the hardwood, the cinder track, the ice rink, the gridiron, the golf links and the tennis courts. Recall with us that:

"UPON THE FIELDS OF FRIENDLY STRIFE ARE SOWN THE SEEDS
THAT UPON OTHER FIELDS ON OTHER DAYS
WILL BEAR THE FRUITS OF VICTORY."

FOOTBALL

Faced with a rigorous schedule and building a team around only a few returning lettermen, B.C. High's football squad began the season with high hopes and a tremendous hustle and desire to learn. The excellent tutelage of Head-coach Galligan who was assisted by Jim Cotter, Paul Hunter, Dick Murphy, Frank Casey and Lou Martignetti, brought unexpected results. For the first time in the history of the school, B.C. High had its own practice field on the campus. In the first game of the season against Trade, the Eaglets shut out Trade by a score of 12-0. Quarterback Jack Gurry broke the ice by plunging over the one yard line. Halfback Mike Ananis scored the second tally on a two yard buck in the fourth period . . . In our second game on Oct. 6th, we were edged by a strong Tech team 28-22. Joe Dooley capped a fifty yard run by barreling over from the ten yard line. At the start of the fourth period two long aerials by Frannie Donlan brought the ball deep into Tech territory. Gurry then threw to Ledwick who, with a neat piece of running, legged it over for the score. Gurry piled over for the extra points. Ignited by this score, the Eaglets took over the ball at midfield. Two plays later Donlan rolled out to his left and hurled a long touchdown pass to Chris Shea who scored the extra points . . . On Columbus Day, the B.C. High eleven succumbed to a hard driving English team 30-0 before a crowd of more than 8000. The Eaglet fans didn't have much to cheer about in this contest. We could not contain the slippery English backs and our defense was plagued by costly penalties and a staunch English defense . . . On Oct. 27th, the Eaglets were soundly beaten by South Boston. Throughout the first half, Southie's strong defense stymied us while St. George and company was ammassing a 32-0 lead. Early in the third quarter Mike Ananis topped a sustained drive with an eleven yard dash for the score. Gurry then sneaked over for the points . . . In the next game B.C. High lost a heart-breaker to Latin by the score of 14-12. Latin held the lead throughout the game and shut out the Eaglets for the first three periods. The Eaglets finally came alive in the fourth period when Quarterback Gurry topped off a 59 yard march with a one yard plunge and C. Shea slated over from the six climaxing a 69 yard drive . . . On Friday, Nov. 10th, the Eaglets stormed back into the win column by soundly thrashing Dorchester 30-0. Late in the first period Chris Shea capped a seventy yard sustained drive by skirting the right hand from eleven yards out. In the third quarter Shea took a Gurry handoff and raced around end for 49 yards and a score. Donny Walsh plunged over for the two points in the final quarter. Shea scored his third TD of the game when he piled over from the one yard line. Gurry sneaked across for the bonus points. Then Junior halfback Art Bradley added six points when he barreled over from the 5 yard line. Gurry again added the extra points . . . On Nov. 16th, B.C. High avenged its earlier defeat at the hands of Latin by edging the purple and white 8-6.

B.C. High halfback Roger Hughes, left, picks up short gain in first period against South Boston. Southie won 38-8.

BASKETBALL

Due to a tremendous team spirit, our Eaglets captured the championship of the City League with a spectacular display of persistence and fair play in our first undefeated season. On Jan. 2, our team breezed to its first victory, 64-29, with Kuodis and O'Keefe sharing the honors as high scorers. Two days later, our squad engaged Trade in an excellent showing of sharp passing and fast breaking. The results were: B.C. High 85—Trade 48. In the next encounter, the team battled English in a long, close and exciting game which resulted in our winning of first place. Co-Captains Gratto and Anderson paced the team in the game's decisive third period to a 66-56 victory . . . The Eaglets proved their supremacy in an overwhelming triumph over Tech 70-42. Fine ball-handling combined with sharp-shooting defeated Latin 74-51 . . . The Eaglets rolled to a sixth straight win by beating Trade, 85 to 49, thanks to a quick 18 to 4 lead in the first period. Kuodis and O'Keefe each collected 22 points . . . English felt the sharp sting of defeat in the closest game of the season. Ahead at one time in the third period, English was surpassed by our spirit of determination as the team eked out a 51-49 victory. At Tech our quintet survived a closely contested battle to remain undefeated. The outcome was 53-51 . . . Next, Dorchester and Latin fell victims to the claws of the Eaglets by scores of 90-67 and 82-37 respectfully . . . On Feb. 5, first-place B.C. High stretched its unbeaten record with a 74 to 57 conquest of Trade. Joe Tangney (23) was high man for the winners followed by teammates Tom Anderson (19), Bob O'Keefe (18) and Gedy Kuodis (11) . . . On Feb. 8, English desperately tried to regain top honors in the League, however their hopes were shattered by the Eaglets' crushing score of 82 to 60. Kuodis, the league's leading scorer, was high man for B.C.H., scoring 39, while teammate Bob O'Keefe tallied 20. This win was B.C.H.'s third over English this season . . . B.C. High culminated an undefeated season by crushing Tech 68-48 . . . Our Eaglets, having the distinction of being the only undefeated Class A Team in the state of Massachusetts, had high hopes of future success since they qualified for both the Catholic and Tech Tournaments. In the Catholic Tourney B.C. High battled all the way to the Finals, but was defeated by St. John's of Shrewsbury 73-57. Competing in Class A first round play in the Tech Tourney, New Bedford Voke beat B.C. High 65-59.

HOCKEY

B.C. High opened the season with a scoreless tie against Tech on Dec. 29th. The game was marked by excellent defensive plays by both teams. In the second game of the season B.C. High, undefeated in its last 26 games, was edged 3-2 by a scrappy Trade club . . . The Eaglets scored a 3-1 decision over English. Bob Malloy's second period goal highlighted this contest. He rushed the length of the ice with the puck and put a five foot shot into the open side of the net . . . In the next game, the B.C. H.-Latin tilt was a thriller from start to finish with Charlie Westfield's goal in the final period proving to be the clincher . . . The B.C. High-Tech game was a see-saw affair until the Eaglets' Jerry York scored the winning goal in the third priod. O'Donnell and Padden also scored for the Eaglets . . . B.C. High moved into a first place tie with Latin via a 3-0 victory over Trade by scoring once in each period. On Jan. 23rd, second place B.C. High battled third place English to a 1-1 tie . . . Jerry York's unassisted goal in the first period gave the Eaglets a 1-0 victory over Latin and first place in the City League on Jan. 26th. Goalie Paul Fulchino did an excellent job to back-bone the triumph . . . The Eaglets made use of an explosive first period to cop the decision over Dot 6-0. Padden, Malloy, Burns and York all tallied in the opening ten minutes. B.C. High added two more in the third period . . . B.C. High posted a 3-0 victory over Tech on Feb. 2nd. Jerry O'Brien got the Eaglets off on the victory trail as he pumped in a pair of goals during the second period. Padden wrapped up the Eaglets scoring when he tallied in the final period . . . B.C. High took another step towards the successful defense of its Boston League championship as it posted a 4-2 victory over Trade on Feb. 6th . . . On Feb. 9th, B.C. High defeated English for the second time by a score of 6-2 . . . Latin tied B.C. High for first place in the City League on Feb. 13 by a 3-2 victory . . . B.C. High became City Co-Champions with Latin by defeating Dorchester 8-0. Right wing Jerry York scored four goals to lead B.C. High to an 8-1 victory over Loyola High of Montreal at Loyola Rink in the Second Annual home and home series on Feb. 18th. In a return match on Feb. 26th at the Boston Arena the Eaglets again defeated Loyola High by a score of 5-4 . . . On March 1st, B.C. High competed against Hingham in our first round in the State School Hockey Tourney. The Eaglets lost: 5-4.

Jerry York's drive is stopped by Tech goalie.

TRACK

B.C. High overwhelmed all its opponents to emerge as undefeated champions of the Metropolitan Cross Country League in a series of thrilling victories. On Oct. 4th the Eaglets defeated Somerville by taking six of the first nine places. We won our second harrier meet against Brookline. Bob Molvar took first with teammate Dean Murphy a close second. B.C. High won its third straight meet by beating previously undefeated Rindge Tech. We then almost shut out Malden Catholic, missing a perfect score by one. Bob Molvar was within three seconds of breaking the course record set a few years ago by Kev Callahan, another B.C. High runner. On Oct. 26th by winning the meet against the Cantabs, B.C. High not only completed its first undefeated season since 1952 but also won the 1961 Met League championship . . . Competing in its first indoor meet against Tech on Jan. 9th in the East Newton St. Armory, the Eaglets showed remarkable strength. Outstanding in competition were Hughes, Class B shot putter; Keough, Class B 50 yd. dash and Merrick, Class A hurdler. Points were rather evenly distributed until the last three relays which the Eaglets lost. Final score was B.C. High, 141—Tech, 168 . . . Against Latin and Trade, the Eaglets gained a wide margin in field events and the speedsters increased the lead. Chris Shea won the 300 in 35.7 seconds, an Armory record while Bob Molvar lapped all opponents finishing the mile in 4.54.4, another Armory record. Pucci took the Class B high jump; Normant, the Class C hurdles; Johnson, the 1000 and Alberico the Class B 440. Final score: B.C. High 135½; Latin 95½; Trade 82 . . . On Jan. 22nd Trade was our rival. In Class A, Forina won the shotput; in Class B, Pfeiffer won the high jump while Normant won it in Class C. The score at the end end of the field events was: B.C. High 198—Trade 28. In the running events Babin captured first place in the 1000 and Paul Molvar, brother Bob's protege, won the Class B 880. Final score: B.C. High 198—Trade 107 . . . The Novice Meet was held on Jan. 29 and 31 for those who had not placed first or second in other meets. Bob Thompson's broad jump was the highlight of the field events. Losing by 6 in. and barely placing a 4th, Thompson approached the line and soared 8 ft., 11½ in. to place second—on the very last jump . . . On Feb. 7th which was the final meet of the season, B.C. High competed against Trade and Tech in a Tri-meet. Losing by 30 pts. in the field events, our runners however, turned in a sparkling peformance. Chris Shea defeated Cater and Coleman in the 50 yd. dash, blazing to a tremendous 5.6 to equal the district record. Bob Molvar bettered his own mile record to win in 4:43:4, another Armory record. We swept Tech in each of the three relays. However, we didn't have the depth and lost this heart-breaker. Final score: B.C. High 93—Tech 164½—Trade 58½.

EAGLETS DISPLAY SPIRIT AND DETERMINATION

Opening the Boston Conference baseball season on April 20th at Billings Field in West Roxbury, English High's defending champions defeated runner-up B.C. High by a score of 7-5. Pete Flaherty was the big man for the Eaglets as he collected two hits and pitched a superb game . . . Frank Maguire was the winning pitcher and Jay Spillane, the heavy hitter, as the Eaglets downed Tech in a 5-4 squeaker at Almont Field on April 24th . . . Capt. Rick Manning was the only hitter as the Eaglets lost to a strong Latin team, 4-0 . . . On May 1st, B.C. High bounced back into the winning column as Maguire posted his second victory by defeating Trade 8-4. The Eaglets exploded in the first two innings, getting 4 extra base hits and capitalizing on a Trade error to drive across 7 runs . . . Trade was once again defeated by the Eaglets and Maguire collected his third victory in a row on May 3rd when Tom Anderson singled and was driven in when Gene Dolan also singled . . . The Eaglets were again stopped by English as they went down to a 3-0 defeat . . . Rick Manning, aided by the three-hit pitching of Frank Maguire led the Eaglets to their fourth victory as they belted Tech 6-1 . . . Undefeated Latin edged out the Eaglets in a close contest by a score of 5-4. We tied the game in the top of the 5th as Flaherty drove home Spillane with the third run but Latin came back with two more in the last of the 5th . . . The Eaglets bounced back after being beaten by Dot 11-7 to soundly drub Trade 17-5 at McConnell Field. Rick Manning's grand slam home run in the 2nd was one of the many hits off Trade's Stanton that day . . . Two home runs by Prifty aided English to defeat B.C. High 11-5 at Billings Field . . . Once again the men from Morrissey Blvd. bounced back and bombed Tech 9-4. Bob Malloy and Frank Dahlstrom collected two hits each in this game . . . The Eaglets exploded for 5 runs on 4 hits in the 1st inning to avenge a previous loss by defeating Dot 6-0 at Roberts Field on May 29th. Bob Hines pitched a sensational one-hit game and Rick Manning hit his 2nd home run to clinch the victory . . . On June 1st the Eaglets knocked Latin from the ranks of the undefeated as they posted a 8-6 victory at McConnell Field. Dahlstrom's bases loaded triple and Crowley's single tied the score in the 4th. The Eaglets went ahead 7-4 in the 7th as Bob Malloy tripled with the bases loaded. Latin tried to recover but the Eaglets iced it in the 8th when Jim Crowley scored on a balk.

GOLF

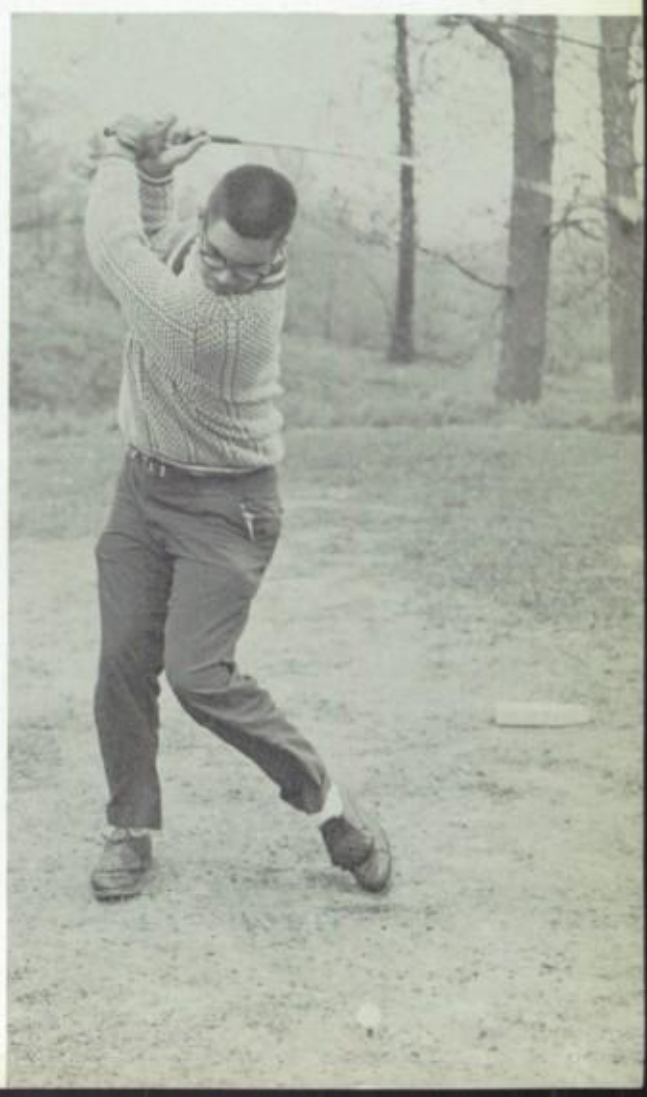
Last year, 1961, the Eaglets emerged victorious and undefeated. This is the fourth time that B. C. High has won the Catholic Golf Conference. Displaying tremendous balance the Eaglets breezed through the season, overpowering strong Malden Catholic and Archbishop Williams teams. Our victory at Malden Catholic marked their first loss at home in three years. The most thrilling match of the regular season was a sudden death victory over Arch. Williams at the South Shore Country Club in April. Mike Loughran and Bill Linehan had to go four extra holes before downing a stubborn Bishop pair, in a match that lasted till dark . . . Under the capable coaching of Rev. Joseph O'Neill, S.J., B.C. High qualified for the State Championship, held at Ponkapoag in Canton. In the first round we defeated heavily favored Brockton team 8½-½. In the semi-final our victim was Walpole by the score 6-3. Or opponent in the finals was Chicopee who defeated the Eaglets on the eighth hole by the score of 6½-2½.

Mike Loughran holes out on the 18th while Flynn and Chisholm look on.

Gerry Chisholm tries to sink one on the 4th hole against Arch. Williams High School.

Paul Chabot blasts one out of the trap to the ninth green.

Flynn lines up his shot for a putt on the ninth green under the interested gaze of Loughran.



Tom Chisholm tees off on the eleventh hole. Final score: B.C. High 2—Arch. Williams 1.

TENNIS

Winning six of its eight matches, the B.C. High tennis squad had a successful season. Led by Captain Bob Liuzzi who has never been defeated in any of his matches, the tennis team won victories twice over Quincy High by the same identical scores, 3-2. Then we lost to a very strong Cranwell Prep. team. In the encounter with Malden, we won 5-0. Then Weymouth High also was subdued 5-0. Rindge Tech., a new opponent on our schedule also was conquered 5-0. Our game with Hingham was rained out. St. Sebastian's overcame us 4-1. Finally we ended the season by beating Rindge Tech. 5-0 . . . Under the coaching of Fr. J. M. Keane, S.J., expectations run high for the 1962 season with the return of Walsh and Roberts. Jim McGee, who hails from Australia, will be an important cog in our future victories.

John Fatersik makes an overhead smash against St. Sebastian's.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

It seems sort of banal to use a four syllable word to say "thank you" but that's tradition and the RENAISSANCE is nothing if not traditional, and the people mentioned on these pages are largely responsible for the traditional RENAISSANCE. Therefore, we first wish to acknowledge all our Patrons, Sponsors, Boosters and Advertisers who are listed in these pages without whose help the production of the 1962 RENAISSANCE would have been impossible. Secondly, we want to make special mention of the entire student body's tremendous enthusiasm and school spirit which made this edition of the 1962 RENAISSANCE one of the most colorful and enjoyable ever produced.
